Foreword

The hands of the clock in the tower which tops the basic Gothic architecture of Norwood Senior High School mark the passing of time for all those who enter and exit through its doors, as well as for those who merely pass by. The edifice stands proudly, an architectural monument dedicated to the education and development of all who are received through its wide and welcoming doors. We rejoice in the physical beauty of our high school, but at the same time we realize that a school is not just a building. It is a composite of all the hopes and ambitions of a community, and far beyond the value of the building itself is the human element that makes it a living, breathing entity.

Dedication - In Memoriam

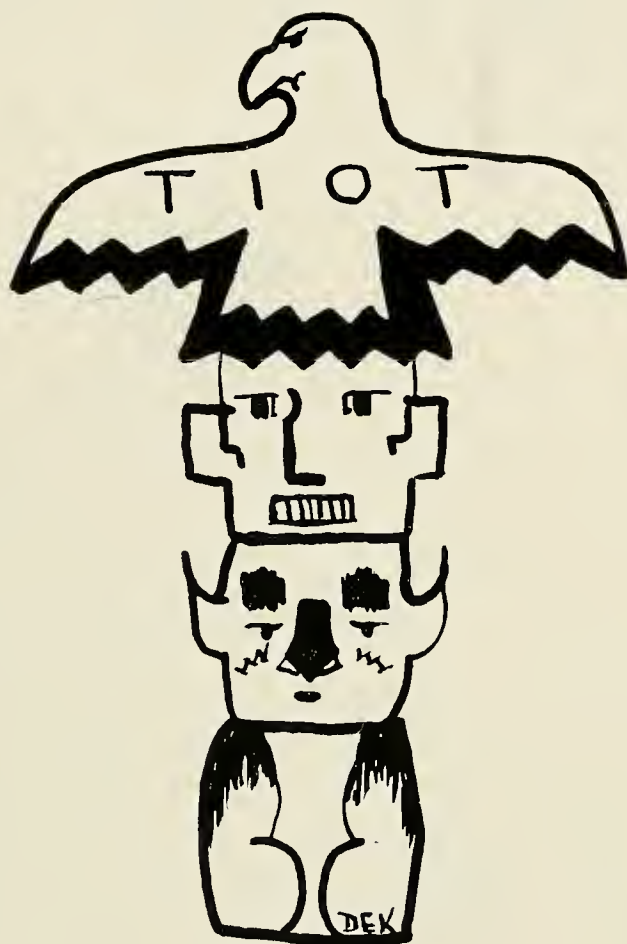

MR. LINCOLN D. LYNCH

The Class of 1967 was in the sixth grade when Lincoln D. Lynch resigned as Superintendent of Schools after thirty years of unparalleled service to the town of Norwood. Mr. Lynch was more than a brilliant educator and a pioneer in the field of mental health, he was first and foremost a man who stood four-square for his beliefs and was a formidable contender in the arena of public affairs whenever they touched upon education and the children at Norwood. To this distinguished gentleman who died in January 1967, the Class of 1967 dedicates this book, in the name of the thousands of children who benefited from his deep wisdom, wide experience, and vigorous service.

Origin of TIOT Name

Many moons ago, when the redman ruled this region, he gave it the name of TIOT, meaning "enclosure of waters" in the language of the Neponsets, a branch of the Algonquin tribe. A glance at the map shows how appropriate this picturesque name is, for Norwood is bounded on the north by Planting Field Brook and Purgatory Brook, on the south by Traphole Brook and the Neponset River, on the east by the Neponset River, and on the west by Hawes Brook and Germany Brook.

FACULTY

Faculty

A school is composed of many elements, but primarily of people: of students and of teachers. There are no well-educated students without well-prepared teachers. The well-prepared teacher is the cornerstone of education. The essence of personality, of mental growth, and of physical development in the student, which prevail in this place of guidance and understanding, evolve in the atmosphere of learning and culture created by the faculty. The teachers at Norwood High School are not only our mentors in regard to learning; they are also our friends and our advisors to whom we may turn in time of difficulty.

SENIORS

Seniors

Within the walls of the edifice known as the school on the Hill, each year there appears a group of students known as the Senior Class. In twelve years, each group has managed to reach the top rung of the first ladder of life... that place where each student, by his own achievement, plus the unselfish help of his parents and teachers, has attained the first pinnacle of superiority...graduation. Commencement, too, designates this important time, and as we begin a new phase of life's journey, may the intangibles of honor and integrity learned here accompany us as surely as the more concrete concepts of education that we have achieved within these walls.

NICHOLAS ABDALLAH

"Nick"

1027 Washington Street

Freshman Party Committee; Student Council 1, 2; Drama Club 1; Freshman Hockey; Sophomore Party Committee; Spanish Club 3; Junior Prom Committee.

Peripatetic and persistent . . . those fuzzy sweaters and general "mod" attire are strictly from Carnaby Street . . . always in the public eye, always courteous.

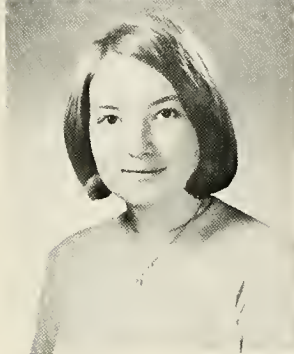

RAYMOND ABEL, JR.

"Ray"

3 Orleans Road

Freshman Party Committee; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Team 3, 4; Honor Roll 1, 3.

A math brain-truster, keen and quick on the up-take . . . a clarinetist of skill . . . a future engineer with all the talents needed.

CELESTE V. ACKER

57 Wilson Street

Basketball 2, 3, 4; Softball 2, 3, 4; A.F.S. club; Junior Prom Committee; Freshman Party committee; Senior Play; Year Book Circulation Committee.

A more delightful package of good humor, athletic ability and determination is not often found with such a "cool" giftwrapping.

*OK - very understanding
J.P. Thanks

Bill
To a real great man
Diane*

WILLIAM M. AFFANATO

"Bill"

106 Cross Street

Freshman Chorus; Student Council 1; Football 1, 2; Soccer 4; Senior Musical.

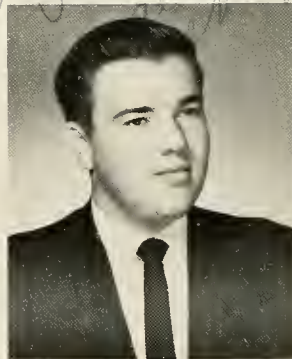

A rugged soccer stalwart . . . his many varied interests — cars, hunting, guns, coin collecting, not to mention math, all help to make his life a busy one.

630 Nahatan Street

French Club 3, Foreign Exchange Club 4; Council of World Affairs 4; Freshman Party Committee; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Play; Senior Musical.

Friendly with many, but sociable with a chosen few . . . a loyal member of the Debonnaires who enjoys competition.

MARY JANE ALEXANDROWICZ

11 McKinley Road

Freshman Party Committee; Field Hockey 1; Freshman Chorus; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Senior Musical.

Always has a kind word for others . . . uncomplaining and genuine . . . her quietness should not be mistaken for unfriendliness.

ANNA ALIGHIERI

30 Granite Street

Freshman Party Committee; Sophomore Party Committee; Junior Prom; Spanish Club; Future Business Leaders of America.

A model's figure and flair for fashion . . . a many-faceted personality . . . never lets school interfere with her social life.

DOREEN M. ANDERSON

53 Yarmouth Road

Freshman Party Committee; Sophomore Party Committee; Junior Prom Committee; Intramural Gymnastics; Tennis; Yearbook Typing Committee; Pep Club; Swimming Club; Senior Play Committee.

Attractive, out-going and good-natured, Doreen will be sorely missed when she goes out West. The California sun will find that her bright smile and disposition are tough competition.

CAROLYN ANDREA

"Carol"

104 Codman Road

This "petite jeune fille" is a distinct asset at our sports events with her vigorously-voiced encouragement . . . an eager-beaver in and out of class . . . bouncing and gleeful always.

JUDITH L. ARNER

"Judy"

35 Elda Drive

Judy has a mature, well-adjusted temperament . . . possesses a unique wardrobe which she wears with the utmost taste . . . a whole-hearted and generous girl.

NANCY ELAINE ASHMAN

"Nance"

11 Chapel Street

Gymnastics 3; Choralaires 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; A.F.S. 4; Senior Play; Massachusetts Southeastern District Chorus 3, 4.

"Dynamite comes in small packages" . . . an effervescent and efficient worker . . . determined to make herself a success.

SUSAN ASPRO

"Sue"

18 Joy Street

Freshman Party Committee; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Musical.

Pert and provocative . . . a well established member of the "in" crowd . . . never without a smile or an escort.

Honor Roll 1, 2; Freshman Party Committee; Sophomore Party Committee; Student Council 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1, 3; A.F.S. Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Yearbook Typing Committee; Basketball 3.

A captivating blond with a host of companions . . . represents our class with finesse . . . a nicer person can't be found.

celebrity I have been hard to get along with at times, I expect all the work you have done for me.

You love it, be one of the greatest guys any of you who don't know I've ever known, I would never let my father say anything like that.

STEPHEN J. BAKER

"Steve"

84 Nichols Street

Freshman Party Committee; Cross County 1; Outdoor Track 1; Senior Musical.

His quiet manner conceals an inner toughness . . . Steve is not one who indulges in small talk . . . he likes cars and skiing but not team sports.

JOSEPH RAY BALDWIN

"Joe"

27 Belnap Street

Wordly-wise and self-composed . . . Joe likes to collect records and tinker with cars . . . Blue Hills Trade School is his immediate objective.

DIANNE M. BARRETT

49 St. Paul Avenue

Animated and out-going . . . always found with her own coterie, enjoying life and helping others to do the same.

ROBERT E. BARRY, JR.

"Bob"

73 Railroad Avenue

Freshman Party Committee; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Gymnastics 2, 3, 4; Senior Musical.

A resolute, likeable chap who has accomplished much in the field of gymnastics . . . sports of all kinds interest him and music is among his many hobbies.

STEPHEN J. BATEMAN

"Stevie"

446 Winter Street

Imaginative, artistic — without a doubt he will achieve his ambition to be a portrait painter . . . girls and gymnastics are his major interests.

Year of Potential

With the vitality which was to be the trademark of our class, we began our freshman year on the Hill. A maze of crowded corridors and a sea of unfamiliar faces kept us starry-eyed and insecure for the first few weeks. It was with difficulty that we elected officers, with so many strange names on the ballot. Our diplomacy had a "woman's touch" with the higher officers being girls: Caroline Stratton, President; Eleanor White, Vice-President; Paula Babel, Secretary; Kathy Fuller and Joe Eysie, Treasurers; Gayle Kelley and Joe Zapalla, A.A. Representatives.

Swaying palm trees and erupting volcanoes set the scene for our freshman party, which was a very enjoyable evening. The spirit of cooperation was inspiring and proved to be a foreshadowing of the reputation our class would achieve for its dependability.

Our athletes showed great potential and worked diligently to prepare themselves for acceptance to varsity teams.

Janet Sullivan, Caryl Memmo, Mary Jane White, Carol Howard, Lois Lindblom, Linda Lanzoni, and Diane Thornton added voiced encouragement to the efforts of our freshman teams. We tasted real high school life for the first time.

Ken Reddick, Carl McCarthy, Jeff Brown, and Peter Oberlander paced our freshman hockey team to a highly successful season. Quality rather than quantity was the key to a fast track season. Stand-outs in track were Tom Brissette, Pete O'Beirne, Bruce Chapman, Jimmy Lydon, and Stan Kelley.

By June we had successfully adapted ourselves to our new environment and were looking forward to three more years of activity on the Hill.

Year of Progress

Returning in September 1964 as sophomores, we were confident and determined to progress in knowledge and sophistication. The masculine half of our class swept the polls this year. We elected Robert Fitzpatrick, President; Robert Orme, Vice-President; Mary Stupak, Secretary; Carolyn Boulis and Joe Smith, Treasurers; Gayle Kelley and Tom Donovan, A.A. Representatives.

Talent previously dormant was aroused in preparing for our Sophomore Party. It was a great success thanks to the zealous efforts of many classmates.

As our potentialities were fast becoming realities, we found ourselves developing an undefinable school spirit and pride in our activities. Our athletes were eagerly welcomed by junior varsity teams. Janet Sullivan and Kathy Fuller added their lively voices to the echoes of the cheering squad.

Tom Donovan, Tom Cassidy, Jack Collins, Ken Feeney, and Ken Sheehan had a very successful football season.

Paul Snellgrove, Mike Saegh, Joe Gugliotta, Wes Loper, and Bob Nelson built up an enormous total of points for our basketball team.

Class leaders who were to achieve prominence in the coming years were beginning to stand out.

Being firmly established at N.H.S. we took an active part in all academic and extra-curricular activities. By taking a more vigorous interest in school life we found our sophomore year exciting and enjoyable.

As June approached we were all satisfied that we had progressed a great deal in physical, mental and spiritual development. We now occupied ourselves with thoughts of the "upperclassmanship" which would come in the fall. We had passed with honor through the difficult days of subordination.

Year of Pressure

Falling leaves and stacks of books accompanied us every day to school and September 1965 brought to us the distinction of being upperclassmen. This year was to prove our most difficult scholastically, but also our most action-filled.

Class officers were cautiously elected and proved to be of exceptional ability. Tom Cassidy, our newly-elected President, put the class before all other commitments. Our other officers included Paul Boulis, Vice-President; Paula Babel, Secretary; Carolyn Boulis, and Steve Donovan, Treasurers; Lois Lindblom and Tom Donovan, A.A. Representatives.

Our athletes moved to the front in all sports. Pushing the football team to its championship were Tom Donovan and Joe Smith, among others.

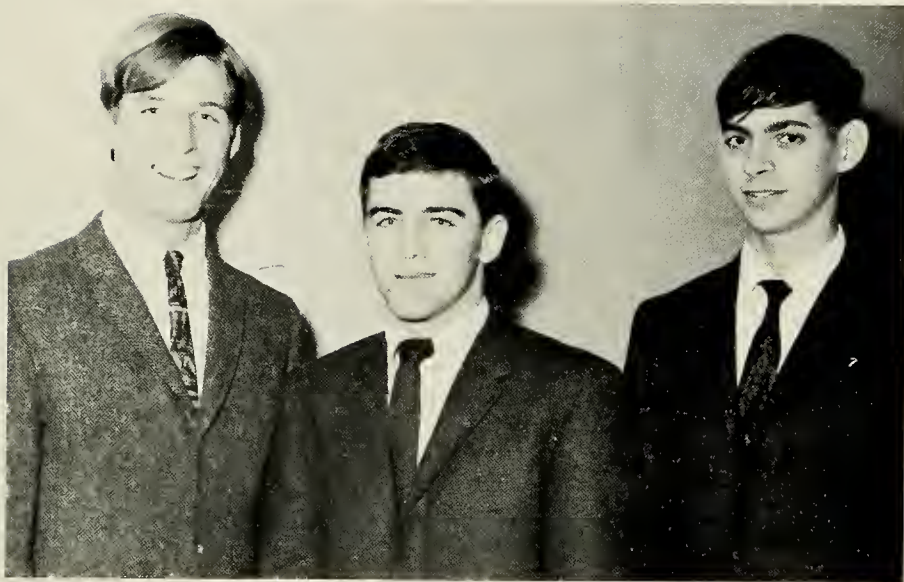

Aside from deserving special attention for all his other achievements, Tom Donovan won extra recognition as the recipient of the Harvard Book Prize. Another contemporary, Robert Benker, was justifiably rewarded with the American Legion History Medal for his knowledge of U.S. History.

As spring came our interests turned to our junior prom. Tom Cassidy and his crew of capable assistants worked endlessly to ensure our happiness on the evening of April 29th. "Carousel" was appropriately the theme for a colorful evening of enjoyment.

Our scholars were officially recognized at the annual awards assembly. We were all proud and happy to laud our classmates who were received into the National Honor Society.

Our last project was to act as hosts to the out-going seniors on their Class Day. With mixed emotions we said "So long." We now came to the realization that we had to fill the positions of importance which our departing friends had filled so well.

Front Runners

O'Brien, Cassidy, Erikson

Our Three Men in High Places

The highest positions in the Class of 1967 were held by Thomas Cassidy, President of the Class, George O'Brien, President of the Student Council, and Kenneth Erikson, Co-editor-in-chief of the Yearbook.

Tom Cassidy served for two years in office, presiding over the best class ever to pass through the School on the Hill. Ever popular and ever busy, Tom complemented his work as President with membership on the football team where he played defensive end. Despite his size, he was a mighty contender. He plans to attend Northeastern University.

Our energetic Student Council leader, George O'Brien, served the student body with distinction. He led such successful and beneficial campaigns as the Globe Santa Fund and the March of Dimes Drive. George was also President of the Foreign Exchange Club and a member of the soccer team. Hard-working yet sociable, he will make a fine addition to Providence College next year.

Kenneth Erikson was Co-editor-in-chief of the Tiot. An indefatigable and cheerful worker, Kenny was the moving spirit on the editorial staff. His academic interests lay mainly in mathematical and scientific fields. Ken also participated in track and tennis while at the high school. He plans a chemical engineering career and hopes to attend Purdue University next fall.

Year of Prominence

With a flurry of excitement and our traditional enthusiasm, we began our last action-filled year on the Hill. We started the year off right by reelecting Thomas Cassidy, President; Michael Saegh, Vice-President; Kathleen Fuller, Secretary; Paul Snellgrove and Gayle Kelley, Treasurers; Thomas Donovan and Margaret Crowley, A.A. Representatives.

Our first activity as a class unit was a unique one: the liberation of Blue Hill. The purpose of the evening was to bring Blue Hill back to its rightful place in Norwood, and though it was physically unsuccessful, the hill will always be known to us as Mustang Mountain.

Our "senior super-heroes" immediately proved themselves on the football field. Attendance at the games was always high—naturally—with such attractions as Captain Tom Donovan, Tom Cassidy, Bill

Although Ryoko, our Japanese exchange student, wasn't always sure in which direction our players were supposed to be running, she was one of the most vocal spectators in the stands. She will always be remembered by all of us, especially the soda jerks as "Fliendlie's" for her frequent requests for strawberry "flappes."

The football season reached its climax with another unprecedented event. The night before the biggest game of the year, a bonfire took place, thanks to the organized efforts of many of our class leaders. The enthusiasm kindled by the fire combined with the skill of our football team to bring victory over Dedham 36-32.

Captain Paul Snellgrove and other basketball stars such as Pete O'Beirne, Tom Donovan, Jack Wilson, Bobby Nelson, Wes Loper, Jack Collins, Joe Rukstalis and Joe Gugliotta assured all spectators of a fast-moving, high score game. The season ended with a hilarious student-faculty basketball game. Bob Fitzpatrick's burst of super-human strength brought the game to a stupendous tie.

The massive public support given to the hockey team added to the players determination to uphold Norwood's reputation on the ice. Senior aces on the ice included: Captain Pete Oberlander, Ken Reddick, Richie Graham, and Kevin Murphy. Although our final hockey game ended in defeat, we played a hard game and made the slender (2-1) victory for Arlington no easy matter. We kept the name of Norwood High above reproach both during and after the game. The excitement and anticipation of that game will forever be a part of all of us!

Our first theatrical production, "The Thread That Runs So True", was an inevitable success. "Bully" Wiik and "Granny" Sopp stole the show, but Nancy Hemman and Rich Hurley were never outdone.

In the awards department, Barbara Ward received the Brotherhood Award which she has certainly earned. Janet Sullivan won the D.A.R. award, a coveted prize because her classmates chose her from over two hundred senior girls.

"So This Is Paris?" was the title of our unforgettable musical. Debbie Peckham and Mike Griffin were the stars of the show, but Gayle Kelley's pep and cheerfulness brightened up the show and kept the audience in stitches.

Our last round of activities began with our senior prom, on May 19th. We had a delightful evening at Sidney Hill and we began to realize that we were "almost there." The hustle and bustle of the next few weeks was fantastic!

All graduation activities were sparked with brightness and an undefinable melancholy. As we listened to Mr. Monbouquette at Commencement, we each were filled with thoughts of moments never to be forgotten.

We leave Norwood High School optimistic that the education we have received here will serve as a foundation for happiness and success for each member of the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven.

Guidance Department

Although the Guidance Department did not increase its staff this year, it did expand its facilities. The inner counseling room was transformed into a file and records room, while Mr. Poce's office was established down the hall in room 130. In common with all departments in our ever-growing school, space was at a premium and "togetherness" was forced to await the new addition promised in the near future.

It was the purpose of the counselors to acquire an overview of the total educational development of each pupil. This was accomplished through individual counseling and standardized testing. In addition to the nation-wide tests, such as the College Board Entrance Examinations, the guidance department administered individual and group intelligence tests, talent-searching aptitude tests, and achievement tests. It was their responsibility to interpret the patterns revealed by these test results to teachers, parents, and pupils, and to coordinate all efforts contributing to the success of each pupil.

In the performance of these duties, the staff worked closely with administrators, teachers, parents, and community service officials. School resources in specialized areas, such as reading and speech, were fully utilized; and when maximum help required the resources of local and state agencies, these contacts were made on a referral basis. Thus it became the hope of all concerned that individual students would be helped to grow in independent learning, decision-making, and personal adjustment.

English Department

The Norwood Senior High School English Department offered a wide variety of courses in the English language and in literature to provide for the particular needs of the student body. Course offerings were planned to develop and enrich skills in reading, writing, and speaking, those areas of special concern to the English faculty.

Grammar was taught as the base for correct written and oral expression, but a knowledge of and appreciation for literature was as always, the core of all English studies. Norwood Senior High School classes used a variety of modern texts to explore the novel, short story, drama, essay, and other literary forms. A survey of English and American literature was carried on through the Junior and Senior years to provide the student with a better understanding of his literary heritage.

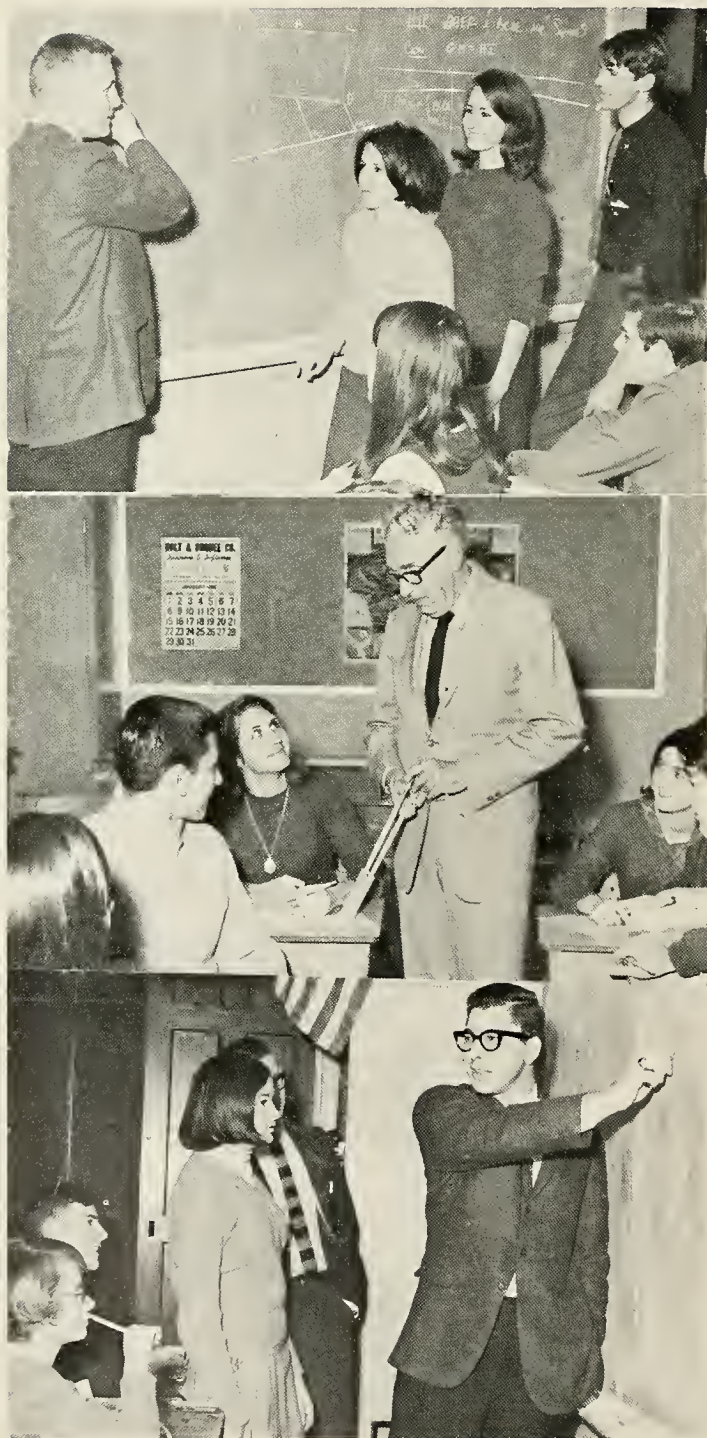

Several times during the year students were given the opportunity to confer with their English teachers about the quality of their work. These conferences were scheduled in an effort to improve, develop, and enrich skills in written and oral composition.

A special feature in the English Department was the opportunity offered to make class field trips to Boston and suburban theatres to see stage plays. In this way, interested students are given the opportunity to see worth-while legitimate theatre at nominal prices.

This year the department offers elective courses in creative writing, drama and public speaking.

Mathematics Department

The Mathematics Department is now nearing the end of a period of revision and change which is quite unlike any other period in the history of teaching mathematics. In the past ten years each course in the curriculum has been substantially revised in order to take full advantage of new research done in the area of math education. This year, for example, the department participated in a federally-funded study to discover whether the use of a time-shared computer would improve the learning of mathematics.

One class in second year algebra traveled to Westwood once a week for the first half-year, where they programmed and solved problems in algebra through a terminal which was attached to a PDP-1 computer in Cambridge.

Most of the students found using a powerful, high speed computer interesting, challenging, and exciting. In addition to their participation in a truly forward-looking project, they had fun.

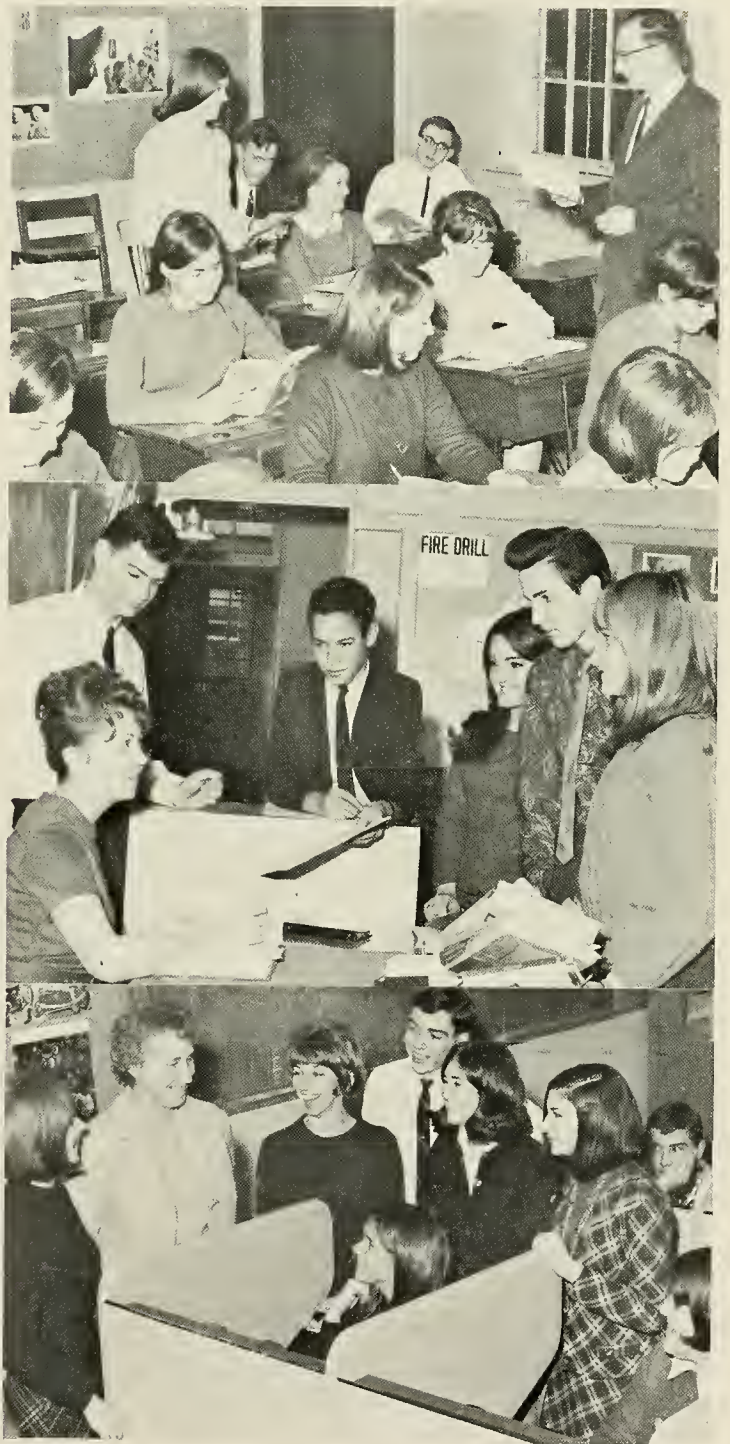

In the Basic Math courses, where programmed instruction was introduced in 1963, a compromise was reached. The programmed units were used for five weeks each term, and the regular text for the other half of each term. This instruction was achieved without the possible resulting boredom, while the regular teaching continued, with some of its problems removed or at least eased.

Foreign Language Department

The Foreign Language Department at Norwood Senior High School continued to reflect the general growth and expansion of the school and the town. German was offered this year for the first time since the post-World War I era. For the first time in history there was a class in fifth year French. Four years were offered of Latin and of Spanish respectively.

The laboratory continued to be a very useful adjunct in the learning of modern foreign languages since each booth was equipped with a tape recorder which permits the student to listen to a variety of French, German, and Spanish speakers, then to attempt to imitate them, and finally, to play back his own performance and compare it with the master recording. By means of drill exercises the student could master structures of the language which had been presented in the classroom. Recordings also provide him with additional information concerning the culture of the countries being studied.

Each student was scheduled for laboratory work one period every seven days and had the opportunity for supplementary work during his study periods and after school hours under the combined student-faculty supervision on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

History Department

The Norwood Senior High School History Program is designed to develop well-informed citizens by providing more depth and continuity in subject areas and more variety in course selection.

Courses have been offered to the student on the advanced level in Western Civilization and American History I. Upon successful completion of these courses, students advance to Western Civilization II and American History II. Those students who are taking American History I and II are encouraged to take the Advanced Placement Examination which will, in some colleges, give them six credit hours toward degree work.

For the college preparatory student Western Civilization I or American Government is offered in the Freshman year. Sophomores will take Western Civilization II, and Juniors will take United States History. At the Senior year level, the college preparatory student has a wider selection of courses. The student may select any two of the following courses, which will be given during two terms in the academic year: Economics, Russian Studies, International Relations, or Recent United States History.

For those students who do not plan to continue their education beyond the secondary school level, courses are offered in American Government in the Freshman year, Geography in the Sophomore year, United States History in the Junior year and a choice of either Contemporary Affairs or Economics in the Senior Year.

This year each student was given a complete course outline of every subject in the Social Studies area. It is hoped that these outlines will help both the students and the teachers in understanding the direction, purpose, sequence and requirements in each course.

Science Department

The Science Department continues to grow annually and the wide variety of courses offered for selection reflect the changes that have taken place in the sciences over the last decade. We continued with the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study, Blue and Yellow versions. These science programs rely greatly on the use of the laboratory as an integral part of the student's learning activities and contribute to an understanding of important biological concepts. For those students with a special interest in Biology or in related fields, an advanced course in Biology is also offered. This course also relies on the laboratory activities to develop concepts.

This year for the first time, two classes of Sophomores are taking the Chem Study course which emphasizes the most enjoyable part of chemistry — experimentation. The laboratory work provides the basis for the development of chemical principles. It will be possible for these students to do advanced work in chemistry which we are due to offer in 1968-1969.

We continued with the PSSC Physics course which is also a laboratory-oriented course. Principles grow out of observations made in the laboratory. Some new experiments have been added and some of the older ones have been changed so as to make some of the basic principles easier to recognize.

With the interest in space travel, our Earth Science course becomes more important. This course stresses the basic facts concerning the earth — its make up and movements and its relation to other planets. We stress laboratory work because it contributes so much to interest in and comprehensiveness of the course.

Business Department

Despite popular opinion that automation is about to eliminate the need for office personnel, statistics published by the Department of Labor show quite the contrary. The need for well-trained stenographers, typists, bookkeepers, and secretaries has never been greater. The projected future need is said to be critical.

The business department at Norwood High School offers a variety of subject matter in an attempt to help our young people to obtain a good training in those areas considered to be important by business management. Our business curriculum offers courses to provide a thorough training in shorthand, transcription, typewriting and bookkeeping. In addition, an introduction to a variety of business machines, filing, and office automation is provided.

The courses are planned to permit some individuals to take courses that will satisfy personal needs as well as more complete courses for vocational requirements. Many of our students continue their education beyond the secondary school level; we are pleased to state that many obtain gainful employment upon graduation from high school.

Through the fine cooperation of the U.S. Civil Service Commission, for the past several years we have been able to offer civil service examinations here at Norwood High School.

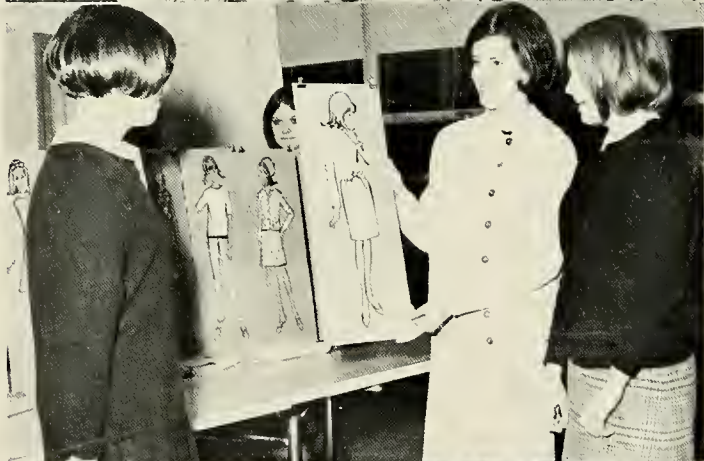

Home Economics Department

The Home Economics Department this year offered more than four hundred girls an opportunity to develop themselves as responsible and deft individuals through class experiences which can be put into practice in daily living.

They learned the fundamentals of good nutrition and the planning of breakfasts, lunches, and dinners for various age groups and meal situations. They followed good and safe housekeeping practices and learned the rules of correct table setting for different types of meals.

The girls were taught to use the sewing machine and patterns. Each made a sampler of hand stitches and learned to fit and alter garments while constructing them. In studying fashion and good grooming they became more aware of the principles which govern personal appearance. Some classes worked on tailored garments and learned the techniques of making coats and suits.

Those who followed Home Economics through to the senior year enjoyed the experiences of flower arrangement and cake decorating. Speakers on these subjects came to the classes and gave professional demonstrations to the girls. Many girls took advantage of the Elective Home Economics class and of Home Management where they were introduced to many other aspects of home and family care.

Library and Reading

SCHOOL LIBRARY

During the past year the growth of the School Library was greatly accelerated through two federal grants for the purchase of books. One, for history source books, was obtained by the social studies department under the National Defense Education Act. Fifteen hundred additional books were acquired for the library as a result.

Since there has been no increase in book space, the shelving problem is becoming acute. There is to be another grant, available to the school library this year. The books will be acquired but where they will be housed is a question. Norwood High School Library is not spared the growing pains that are afflicting all school libraries in these days of the information explosion.

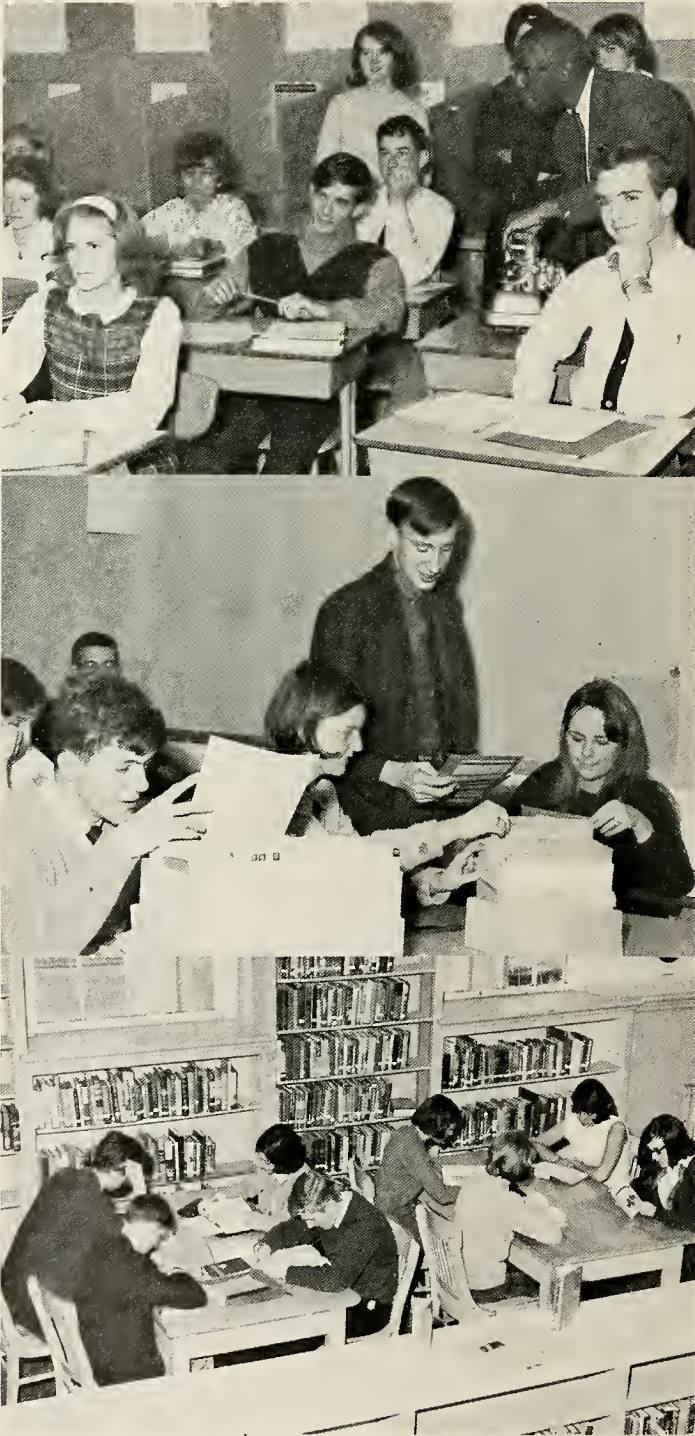

The annual course of instruction in the use of the library was given to the freshmen English classes. Mrs. Carl Pearson of the Morrill Memorial Library cooperated in the program with the high school librarian. Audio visual aids were incorporated into the program this year and helped to increase the effectiveness of the lessons.

READING DEPARTMENT

The Reading Department at Norwood High School had a diversified program this year. The purpose of the reading class was to develop every student's reading ability to his maximum, as well as to review and refine his reading skills.

Within this comprehensive program courses were offered to upperclassmen on an elective basis. A required course entitled "Study Skills" was designed to equip the incoming Freshmen students with techniques for rewarding study. In addition, small classes and some individual instruction were given for remediation.

As a basic tool for learning in today's competitive world, reading is becoming an even greater necessity for academic excellence and intellectual growth.

Music and Art Department

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Musical Curriculum was substantially broadened this year. Upperclassmen were able to elect courses in Music Theory, Music Appreciation and Voice Training. The offerings in music have now increased to such an extent that any student interested in continuing his music study at a university or conservatory would have the necessary preparation.

Once again General Music was taken by all incoming Freshmen. Freshmen took part in some of the school's musical programs by participating in the Freshman Chorus.

As always the Music Department invited direct participation in some musical activity such as the Concert Band, the Stage Band, the Choralaires or the Concert Choir by as many members of the student body as possible. True appreciation and enjoyment of music has only been attained by being active performers rather than passive listeners.

ART DEPARTMENT

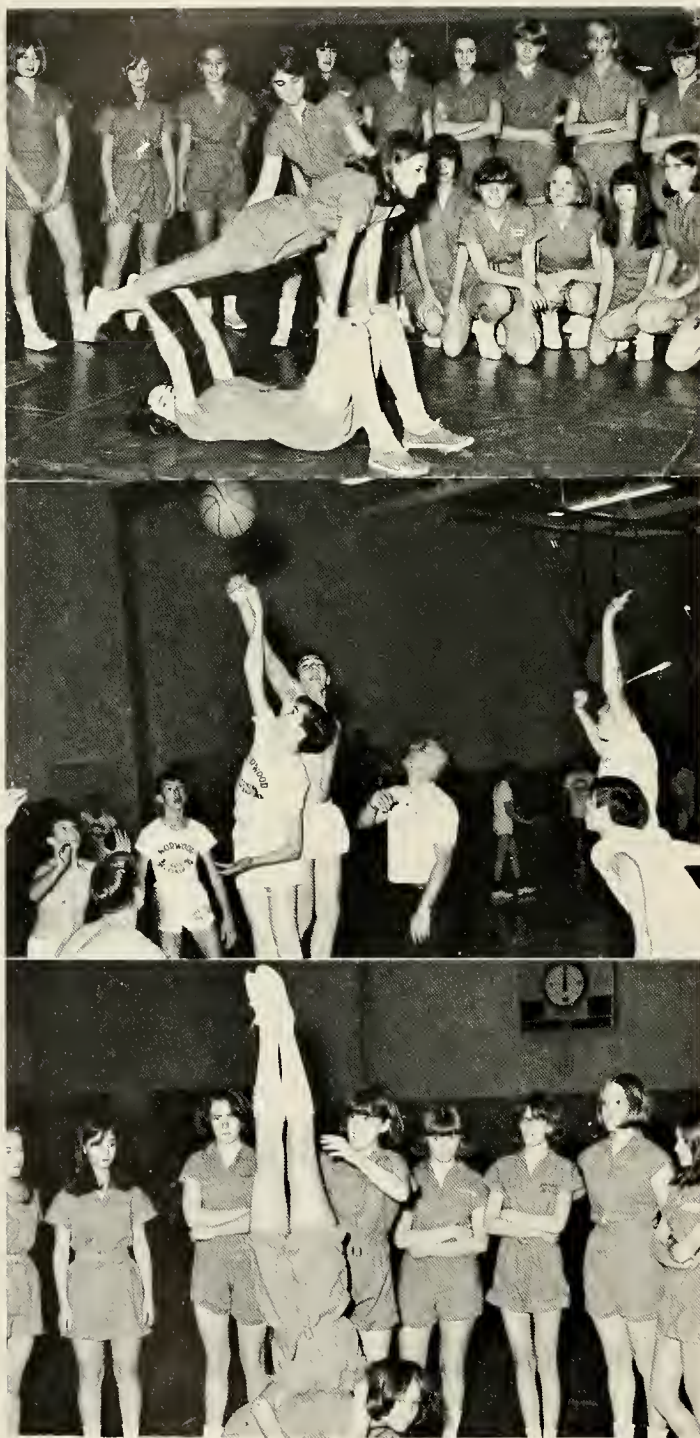

The provisions of the Art Department were arranged so that all students of mixed abilities and talents could apply themselves to a variety of creative experiences. These were realized through a wide range of art media. Such material and methods as block printing, sculpture, oil painting, drawing, ceramics, and many others provide the student with the opportunity to develop a personal interest in art.

In addition to the general art program, students desiring to go on in their art studies either at a university or professional art school, found that the art program provided them with necessary preparation.

Students desiring to further their background knowledge of the arts and humanities learned to appreciate great art and to recognize the work and style of outstanding painters.

Physical Education Department

Our program in Physical Education is an integral part of the high school education and it has been expanding rapidly in recent years. Participation by all students in some aspects of this program, curricular and extra-curricular, is our aim. We also aim to develop correct attitudes towards play and set up proper standards of sportsmanship.

Physical education classes are held two periods a week for Seniors and Juniors and three periods a week for Sophomores and Freshmen.

Intramural sports offered for girls are field hockey, basketball, softball, archery, tennis and gymnastics. The boys intramural program consists of soccer, touch-football, tennis, basketball, gymnastics, weight training, and wrestling.

The interscholastic program, also a very important part of our physical education setup, is conducted for girls in field hockey, basketball, tennis, softball, and gymnastics; and for the boys, in football, hockey, basketball, baseball, indoor and outdoor track, cross country, golf, tennis, and wrestling.

Each year the opportunities offered to the student body are expanded and refined and we feel that the school is well represented in most fields of physical activity with a bright future ahead.

Industrial Arts Department

Industrial Arts Course was designed to help prepare individuals for meeting the requirements of a technological culture. The application of an idea from its inception in the mind of the learner included planning, designing, laying out, cutting, shaping, fabrication, and finishing.

Mechanical Drawing provided a basic knowledge of the techniques and skills necessary to produce satisfactory plans which were used in the various shop courses. The development of pencil and instrument skills in technical sketching, machine design, pictorial representation, architectural drawing, furniture design, sheet metal layout, electrical-electronic planning, and tool design was stressed.

Graphic Arts trained the students in the skills of designing and producing suitable forms which were printed on the offset press.

In Electronics, basic circuits and simple electronic devices were designed and constructed. The proper use of testing equipment was stressed.

Metalwork gave the pupil an opportunity to set up and operate some of the machines found in modern machine shops and sheet metal plants. Metal-spinning, art metal, metal forming, and arc welding were included in this course. Also, in this shop course, Automotive Mechanics was introduced to the more advanced students.

PEABODY

Man must be trained for a place in society where he can function in a fashion that will bring him personal fulfillment. Too long have the necessary, underlying economics of the everyday provision for the welfare and comfort of all citizens been underrated. Trained service for the well-being and health of the community and the family unit is of paramount importance. Competence in these areas is developed and refined in the students of the Henry O. Peabody school so that their contributions will benefit all with whom they come in contact in their future careers.

Every student of the Henry O. Peabody School automatically becomes a member of the Student Cooperative Association at the time of his registration with the school. The Association is an organization by means of which the students govern themselves with the cooperation of the Director and Faculty of the School. The Student Cooperative Association through its elected officers, homeroom representatives, and alternates endeavors at all times to foster a spirit of acceptance of responsibilities as well as privileges, so that fine spirit of friendship and of mutual pride will exist throughout the school as a whole.

The Student Cooperative sponsors various activities such as the pre-election rallies, the election of officers, and the "Get-Acquainted" Tea in the fall. "Operation Santa Claus" takes place in December and is a school project which gives the students an opportunity to remember both children and older people in hospitals, nursing homes, and state institutions. During the year many theatre trips are arranged. The most important event is the annual Class Day which is called the "Step-Party", taking place out-of-doors in June.

Peabody Newshounds

Periodically throughout the school year, a column well known as "Peabody Personalities" appears in the Norwood Messenger and other area newspapers. For the fourteen years of its existence, this column has always been the special province of the Henry O. Peabody Press Club.

Each year, the Press club's membership consists of a group of interested and enthusiastic students who volunteer to gather and write general school news and the news of their respective departments.

Faithful and capable reporters for 1966-67 have been Donna Smith and Jeralyn Letourneau for the Fashion Department; Joyce Anderson and Jo Ellen Connolly for the Business Department; Sharon Murch, Mary Ann Johnson, and Joseph Haglund for Food Service; Kathleen Rafferty for the Beauty Culture Department; and Barbara Tower and Bernard Lanthier for general school news.

The publicity for which the Press Club is responsible is planned to inform alumni, those considering the school in the future, and the community in general about the current curriculum, the present students and staff, and the many activities of Norwood's only vocational public school.

This year the Press Club has been under the direction of Mrs. Zaila Souther, English instructor. Miss Rose Morrison and Miss Marjorie McCready, of the Business Department, have been in charge of the final typing of the copy for publication.

If the mind of a school be its teachers, the heart of a school is its students. The hopes and fears, the churning ambitions, the gaiety and the sadness, the excitement and high spirits, and the "thoughts of youth which are long, long thoughts" all go to make the volatile, highly charged atmosphere of a school an exciting place to be. To our younger brothers and sisters we say do not let the minutiae of life crowd out the eternal verities. Youth is to be enjoyed, but opportunities should not be overlooked nor time frittered away. "Carpe diem" is still a good motto.

“Heirs to the Throne”

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1968

In September 1966 when the Class of '68 returned to the “Hill”, our predominant thought was: at last we are Juniors! With renewed vitality and assurance we eagerly accepted upperclassmanship and all the responsibilities that go along with it.

Vigorous campaigning led the way to our most exciting class election to date. By a write-in ballot our very popular Stephen Donovan was elected President. Those chosen to fill the other offices were: Richard Machado, Vice-President; Dorothy Mazzola, Secretary; Janine Paquette, and Victor Sevello, Treasurers; Cathleen Coakley and Vincent Lembo, A. A. Representatives.

Two outstanding members of our class, Paul Pazniokas and Nancy Sweeney, were chosen as the finalists in the Foreign Exchange Student Program.

Junior cheerleaders, Patricia Burke, Paula Crook, and Nancy Sweeney led the ever loyal and sport-spirited class of '68 as we cheered our teams to victory. Our athletic contributions and faithful attendance has given both the junior class and the N.H.S. teams much to be proud of.

After feverish preparation and excited anticipation, the April evening of our Junior Prom finally arrived. A memorable time was enjoyed by all in our South Sea setting of Hawaii.

June marked the end of our third successful year at N.H.S. As we bade adieu to the Seniors and our unforgettable junior year, we eagerly awaited our impending ascent to the throne of seniority.

“Old Timers Now”

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1969

The Class of 1969 attacked the new year with a new attitude: “We’re older than someone now!” The first order of the year was the election of officers. Of these, two were incumbents: Vice-President Marylee Clark and Secretary Ann Poniatowski. We elected for a first term President David Mogan, Treasurers Kathleen Orme and Frank Ylioki, and A.A. Representatives “Liz” Acker and John Ranalli.

For our Sophomore Party we relied on two predominately sophomore bands: Bob Lindfors, Dale McConkey, Pete Lindfors, and Jim Abel of “The Wayward Moss” and Rick Talbot, Bob Susi, and Tom Campisano of the “Grim Reapers.” A melodrama entitled “Wild Nell, Pet of the Plains” was presented, starring Melinda Reagan; other leading roles were superbly acted by Ann Poniatowski, John Ranalli, Mamee Clark, Jackie Adelmann, and Bob Susi, with Jerry Drummey narrating the tale.

ball team were Dave Mogan, Jack Adelmann, Tom Gugliotta, Bob Donovan, Fred O’Connell and Steve Fischer. In Junior Varsity basketball, we were represented by star players Walt Litchfield, Norm Sacco, Danny McQuaid, Clyde McCrea, and Tom Gugliotta.

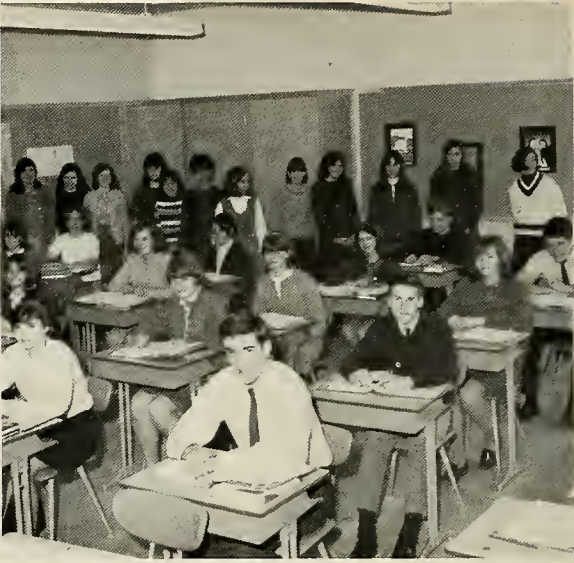

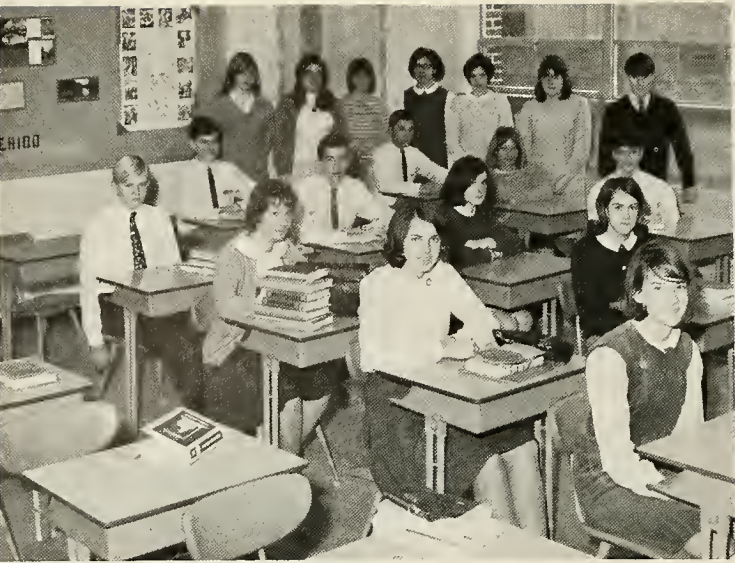

Our star hockey player, John Ranalli, exhibited his outstanding ability in every game.

It is imperative that we not leave out the Sophomore cheerleaders Kathy Donovan, Janet Ostrom, and “Liz” Acker who spurred our boys on to great deeds in athletics.

Students upholding our scholastic rating by meriting “Honors With Distinction” included Virginia Burns, Kelvin Chin, Pat Fanning, Karla Johnson, Roy Lydon, Kathleen Orme, Mary Parkinson, and Barbara Tausey.

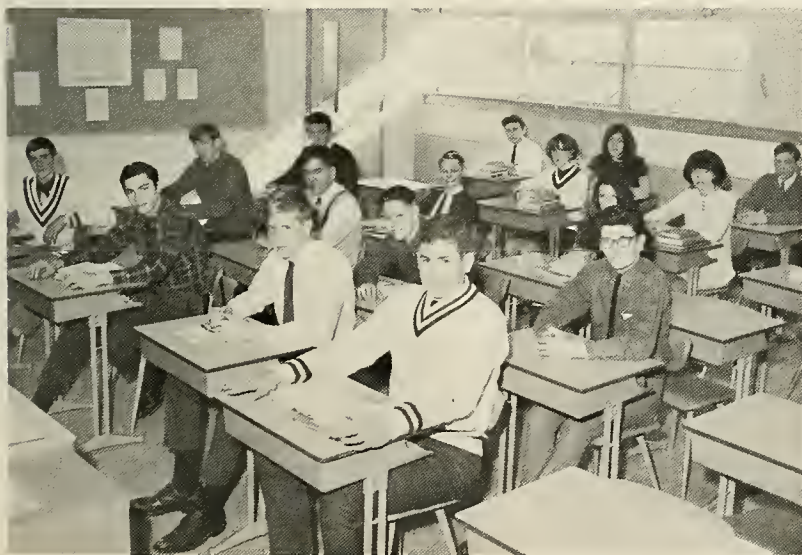

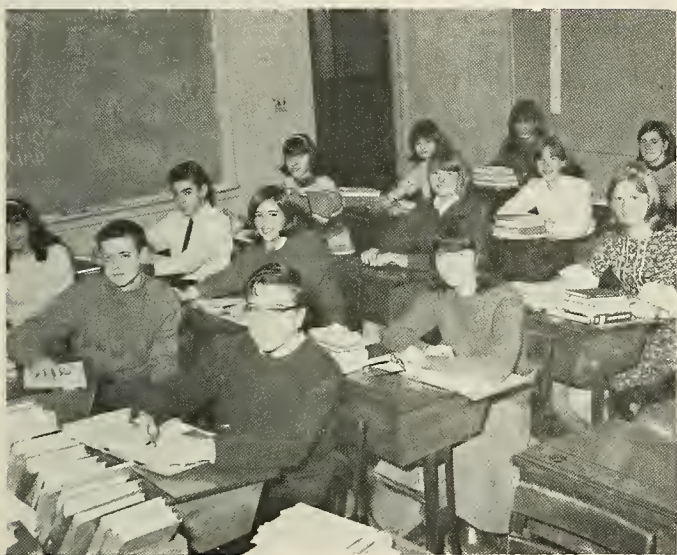

We have made our Sophomore year memorable and we look forward to the challenge ahead.

“A New Decade Begins”

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1970

September 7, 1966: summer was over and a whole new phase of life was about to begin. After a few initial days of utter confusion and dilemma, we were on our way to become the first graduating class of the '70's.

Our first step toward organization was to elect some capable and dependable leaders. Our president was Charles Bradford Kelley; vice-president, Bruno Rondinelli; secretary, Jill Richards; and treasurer Steve Talbot. Girls A.A. was represented by Ann Phalen and Boys' A.A. by Tom Kennedy.

We held our Freshman Party in October with entertainment by a lively band of our own, "Little Jon's Nocturnes." The highlight of the evening was Brian MacQuarrie's Dracula Act in which he imitated that well-known personality, Count Wolfgang Dracula.

We had our own football team made up of all-stars like Billy Ekberg, Greg Koval, Paul DiCicco, Paul Donovan, Johnny Hopkins, Walter Denzer and Roy Parker. Mark O'Connell, Mark Flaherty, Edward Letts, Jerry Gotovitch, Frank Eppich and Walter Denzer made up the first string of our hockey team along with an eighth grade student Philip McNulty. Especially outstanding on our basketball team were Richard Laffey, Gene Romanelli and Bill Moan.

It was a year of fun and new experiences for us, but also one of study and serious thinking. There won't ever be another one like it through all our lives and it will be remembered by us with a certain nostalgic fondness.

The well-known quotation, "Man lives not by bread alone," emphasizes the value of the aesthetic, the appreciation of more than the fundamental learning by which, ultimately, we earn our "daily bread". Music, art, and drama feed our souls as surely as bread feeds our bodies, and who is to question which is of more ultimate value? To all students, our school offers manifold opportunities in extra-curricular activities whereby they may create or perfect interests and hobbies that will endure throughout their lives. Surely such chances of widening our horizons make a school more than the embodiment of the architect's blue print.

The Student Council Grew and Grew

The Student Council had a very active and successful year under the leadership of George O'Brien, President; Kevin Orme, Vice President; Karen Berry, Recording Secretary; Mary Stupak, Corresponding Secretary; Kristen Kask, Treasurer. The Executive Board consisted of Joanne Susi, Chairman; Gayle Kelley, Thomas Donovan, Paul Boulis, John Cronin, Nancy Sweeney, and Michele Eysie. There were over seventy-five members.

Our social calendar began this year with the Student Council Dance held in November. The Grenadiers, a popular local band, furnished the music for the event. As is the custom, proceeds from this dance were given to the Foreign Exchange Fund.

The Council voted to turn the Faculty-Student Basketball Game over to the AFS Club as a project for the year. This club was a comparatively new one and was without funds. For the second year the Council sponsored the Globe Santa Drive. The student body contributed over five hundred dollars to the worthy cause. In fact, our school was among the largest contributors in Greater Boston.

We also participated for the third time in the National Jewish War Veterans Contest, "Classmates Today and Tomorrow." Barbara Ward was selected to represent Norwood High School.

An Exchange Day was conducted with Wellesley High School in March. Officers of our Council and representatives from the AFS Club spent the day in Wellesley and the return visit was made at a later date.

The big project of the year was the Revision of the Student Handbook. We have been without a "Blue Book" for several years and it is hoped that this publication will be ready for school opening in September, 1968.

This year the Council joined the State Association of Student Councils and sent six delegates to the annual convention in Wellesley on May 12, 13. The following students attended this meeting: George O'Brien, Gayle Kelley, Berute Jaras, Joanne Susi, Alan Thomas and William Dynan. Senator Kevin Harrington was the keynote speaker at the banquet and Mr. Gerald VanPool, Director of Student Activities of the National Council of Student Councils, was the main speaker.

The Council couldn't have functioned without Miss Hubbard, the Adviser, and her assistant, Mr. Usevich. Their active support and deep interest in the Student Council activities made the year a pleasant and profitable one.

The National Honor Society is a Real "In-Group"

The principal purpose of a National Honor Society is to give recognition to outstanding youth and to stimulate respect for scholarship and constructive, responsible work. Membership is based on a combination of good citizenship and personal qualities of leadership, service and character. In Norwood eligibility is determined by honor roll status. First honors must be achieved at least three times by juniors and twice by seniors. This honor roll status must be maintained.

All chapters are chartered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Members at the end of term one included the following seniors: Noralie Cox, Maryann Daly, Elaine DeGrazio, Marcella Denzer, Thomas Donovan, Stanley Drost, Jeanne Finn, Jo-Ann Flaherty, Nancy Flaherty, David Gillett, Joyce Kauffman, Linda Maggio, John McAuliffe, Peter O'Beirne, Mary Sauer, Paul Snellgrove, Barbara Stitt, Eleanor White, and Linda Zimlicki. Junior members were Ellen Breen, Dana Craig, Carolyn Deasy, Stephen Donovan, Candace Hurley, Karen Jean Kelly, Vincent Lembo, Richard Lindahl, Patricia Maggio, Jeanne Morse, Eileen O'Connell, Janice O'Connell, Carol Paciakowski, and Janet Smith. Another group of members were added to this following the announcement of second term honor roll.

The National Honor Society members offered a tutoring service in a variety of academic subjects. It was designed to help students who were capable, but who through extended absence, needed special help. This year the privilege of spending study hall time in areas of their own choice was granted to members. In February a group of students attended the conference of the Eastern Massachusetts Association of National Honor Society in Roxbury.

An assembly at school introduced new members to the student body and pins were presented at the annual education night of the Chamber of Commerce. Recognition was also given these students at graduation when their names were starred on the program and their caps bore gold tassels.

The Senior Seminar Scintillated

Each spring approximately twenty juniors are selected for the following year's Senior Seminar, English 400, entitled "Utopian Societies in Literature." This course, divided into two sections, meets after school until 3:30 once weekly for fifteen meetings. At the beginning of the year the reading list (i.e.) Plato's THE REPUBLIC, Machiavelli's THE PRINCE, More's UTOPIA, Butler's EREWON, Bellamy's LOOKING BACKWARD, Huxley's BRAVE NEW WORLD, Orwell's 1984, and ANIMAL FARM, and Chad Walsh's FROM UTOPIA TO NIGHTMARE is discussed. Later on, each student selects a topic which arises from the reading list and is of contemporary significance. After the discussion of the reading list is completed, each student leads the seminar in a brief analysis of his own topic, on which he then writes a research paper. There is no written examination.

An important purpose of English 400 is to familiarize the student with the seminar-type course, which he will encounter frequently on the college level. As the course proceeds and everyone feels more at ease with everyone else, discussion of a frankness relatively rare in the normal classroom circumstances results. If each student develops further his ability to handle logical argument, objective has been achieved.

Le Cercle Français

Le Cercle Français at Norwood High attempts to spread understanding of French culture and civilization in a non-classroom atmosphere.

This year the club consisted of twenty-five juniors and seniors studying French III, IV, and V. The officers were Marilyn Johnson, Linda and Patricia Maggio, and Carol Ann Walker. In the fall, the club viewed movies and slides of France at several meetings where they particularly enjoyed journeys by proxy through the châteaux area and the "Ville Lumière, Paris. They also held a Christmas meeting which included an exchange of gifts, and explanation of French Christmas customs, and learned Christmas carols not usually taught in the classroom.

During the spring, a display of French bric-a-brac, bibelots, bijouterie, and affiches were arranged in the corridors for the enjoyment of the audience attending the Senior Musical. The Club made two trips to French restaurants in Boston, enjoyed a tour of French art on display in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and visited French pastry shops and bookshops in Harvard Square, Cambridge.

El Club Español

At Norwood High School, El Club Español endeavors to promote an exchange of ideas that involves the student in intellectual and cultural pursuits relative to a greater understanding of Spanish customs and traditions.

The officers elected at the first meeting were: President, Marcella Denzer; Vice-President, Lynne Crowley; Secretary, Karen Elias; Treasurer, Patricia Lanzoni; and Program Chairman, Martha Russell.

The club has a small membership but one in which all the students actively participated. Because of this concentrated enthusiasm, many interesting activities for the year were enjoyed.

The proximity of Norwood to Boston affords many opportunities in which the club participates. The Ballet Folklórico of México performed in the Spring and the ballet has become an annual cultural treat which the students enjoy. The club went to the Cardinal Cushing Center for Spanish-Speaking people in Boston during the Easter Season as part of its yearly program. In addition, many films and plays were presented which provided experiences in enrichment for our members.

The Hilltopper Changed Its Format

The 1966-67 season of the Hilltopper started off with many innovations. Among them were the first junior editor-in-chief, Carolyn Deasy, carrying on the Deasey tradition, and a staff composed mostly of underclassmen.

Barbara Stitt and Barbara Ward were the Literary and Features Editors and both were valuable assets to the staff. Vincent Lembo very capably handled the Sports News, while Lois Lydon and Joyce Abromoski filled the positions of News and Art Editors.

The staff, smaller than in previous years, accomplished many things. Among these things was, that for the first time, the newspaper was entirely the production of students without professional printing or photography. Thanks to Mr. Jennings and Mr. Frost, who supervised the printing and photography, the students wrote, edited, and printed the newspaper, thereby cutting the cost considerably.

For the first time in the Hilltopper's history, members of the staff attended the Boston Globe press conference, where they were given a chance to interview a well-known celebrity and a U.N. Delegate, and to discuss journalism with fellow editors from other high schools.

FIVE CONTRIBUTORS AWARDED

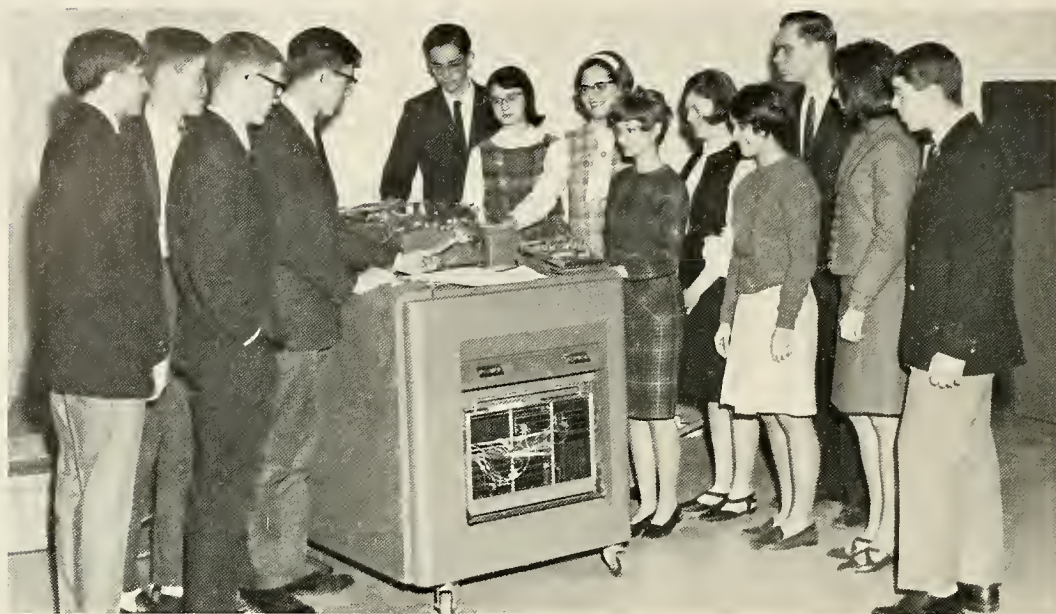

Creative Writing teacher Miss Shields recently announced that she had received a letter from Mr. Dennis Hartman, editor of the National Poetry Press of Los Angeles, California. The letter announced the acceptance of five original poems composed by Norwood students into the yearly anthology, Young America Sings. Those students awarded were Katherine Kalliel, Candice Shields, Patricia Fanning, Diane Nenart, and Vin Lembo. All the contributors received certificates of achievement in recognition of their fine work.

To those five students the Hilltopper offers its congratulations. We are most proud of you.

The Math Team Widened Its Horizons

There are a few educators, more enterprising than most, who are trying to convey not merely facts but the feel of their subjects; they wish to test the enterprise, the imagination, the initiative of the students. And so they seek out problems which call for these qualities. The Greater Boston Math League and one of its many members, the Norwood Senior High School Math Team, represent such an endeavor to seek and demonstrate the qualities of a budding mathematician. Mental venturesomeness, the desire to explore, is one of the marks of a scholar. A mathematician does not want to be told something; he wants to find it out himself. This is not exactly a humble attitude to take, but neither does it necessarily indicate conceit. It is simply the readiness to respond to any challenge.

The 1966-1967 math team entered competition with nine other schools which comprise one of the four divisions in the Math League. Individual competitions were held in five areas of elementary mathematics curricula: arithmetic, algebra I, geometry, algebra II, trigonometry. At the completion of such contests, the school team then participated in the "team" question—usually an unconventional problem which stressed originality of thought rather than mere manipulative ability and introduced the necessity for finding new methods of attack. Since each competition and the team question were timed at exactly ten minutes, a methodical, efficient mind proved to be of benefit.

Our Math Team fared rather well, ranking eighteenth out of fifty competing schools, at the end of the half-year.

The Academics

A new program appeared this year on WHDH Channel 5, called “It’s Academic”. This show, which was telecast every Friday evening at seven o’clock, featured students from three high schools in Boston and its suburbs, competing in a contest designed to test their wits and measure their knowledge. Students were questioned in every field of learning, from art to physics, from literature to mathematics, over a timed interval by the moderator, “Art” James. Quick thinking and general intelligence paid off in victory for the team with the greatest number of points.

When Norwood was invited to participate in this contest, fifteen students were sent to the WHDH studios to be screened. After an evening of testing, which proved to be both fun and interesting, a first team of three contestants and a second team of three alternates were chosen. The first team consisted of David Gillett, James Aicardi, and Christine Donnelly; the second team of Marcella Denzer, Barbara Stitt, and Linda Zimlicki.

In their first appearance Norwood competed with Reading High School and Chauncy Hall High School. The Norwood team soundly defeated both of its opponents and won a set of Collier’s Encyclopedia, eighteen volumes of the Literary Heritage Series, and the fame that comes with victory for their school.

Invited back to appear in the quarter-final playoffs, Norwood found itself facing two tough opponents, Catholic Memorial and Boston Latin High Schools. After a hard fight and an excellent showing, the team met defeat at the hands of Boston Latin. Norwood, however, was very proud of the students who represented their school so well and who won the admiration of the television viewers.

“The Sound of Music” Was Heard

During its four years of existence, the Concert Choir has provided the student body with an opportunity to hear and appreciate fine choral music. Under the direction of Mr. William St. Laurent, the group performed choral pieces by traditional composers such as Brahms, Sibelius, and Berlioz, as well as contemporary composers such as Aaron Copeland. The choir's repertoire also included folk songs and spirituals of rare interest.

In addition to the Christmas and Spring choral concerts, the Concert Choir's schedule included performances for various civic organizations and also for the Norwood Hospital.

The Concert Choir met three times a week in order to be eligible for academic credit, and rehearsals were therefore held during school hours. The corridors rang with the exuberant “Sound of Music.”

The Stage Band Became Professional

The stage band was initiated in 1965, under the direction of Mr. Paul Alberta. The purpose of this group was to broaden the scope of the students' musical development in the world of modern music. Students who wanted to participate auditioned at the beginning of the school year, and eighteen of the most competent were selected to fulfill a very busy schedule.

This very dedicated group of musicians set out to emulate the sounds of the "Big Bands", and played music from "Harlem Nocturne" to the Beatles' latest hits. Rehearsals were held every Thursday evening.

Since the activity of this group was considered extra-curricular, no academic credit was given, but the members' interest and capability and the enthusiasm of the audiences grew even stronger throughout the year.

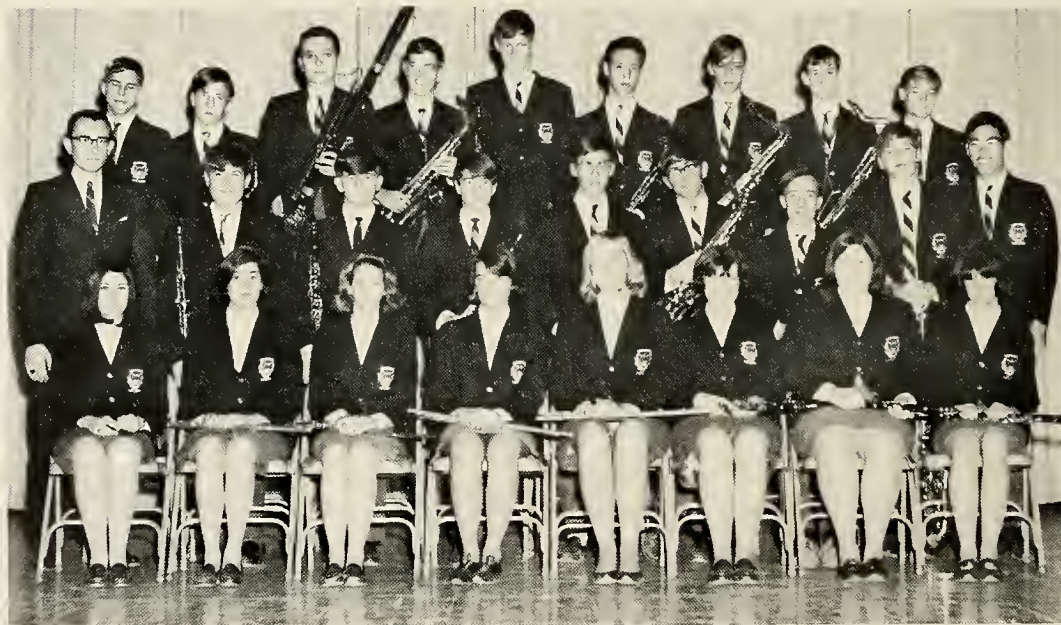

Performances held during the year included an appearance in the Southeast District Music Festival Competition, a Junior High assembly, a concert for the Selectmen of Norfolk County, the Senior Class Musical, and the Annual Exchange Concert.

Sports

A school is not a structure built exclusively for the training of mental faculties, for it is a well-known fact that a healthy, active mind needs a healthy, active body. The rough and tumble, the give and take, learned on the playing field strengthen the limbs and develop the fighting heart. School offers every student the chance to participate in sports, not only to develop this physical fitness, but also to develop a sense of fair play and good sportsmanship. The realization of the value of team work and cooperation, as opposed to striving for individual glory, is one of the ultimate lessons of maturity, one more concept which will make smoother the road ahead.

The Mustangs Started Well and Finished Better

The Norwood Mustangs made their '66 debut a successful one, coming from behind to gain a hard-fought victory over Framingham North, 26-14.

Rain forced the postponement of the game against Wellesley. Norwood lost a heartbreaker, 16-15, with Wellesley's decisive two points scored on a controversial play.

The Gullamen bounced back to take their next two games against Braintree, 12-8, and Framingham South, 19-6. Tom Shea's brilliant running was complemented by that of Senior halfback Kevin Donovan. Led by the two smallest players in the league, Joe Gugliotta and Tom Cassidy, the defense continued to excel.

The next game marked the low point of the season for the locals. A revenge-conscious Natick team trounced the Mustangs, 38-8, with Shea's long run the only bright point of the afternoon.

Norwood again rebounded, this time to tie Needham, 6-6, in a contest marred with penalties. The game ended on the three yardline when big Ken Sheehan was caught from behind after rambling thirty yards with an interception.

The Norwood offensive machine moved into high gear in the next game, crushing Walpole, 20-24, to gain some satisfaction for last year's upset. Joe Smith displayed

Close But Not Quite

The 1966-67 basketball season saw a talented Norwood five fail in its bid for a Tech Tournament berth. Norwood, plagued by bad luck all season, managed to win 12 games against 6 losses. The Blue-and-White quintet lost its first two games, 52-44 at the hands of Needham and 56-53 to Natick. Senior guard, Rocky Nelson, sparkled with 21 points in the latter. The Mustangs rebounded with wins over Framingham South and Braintree, as senior Jack Wilson starred. Norwood split their next two with a loss to Milton and a win over Walpole. The Noletmen, paced by junior Paul Wysocki, won a close one at Wellesley. Norwood ended the first half of the season with easy victories over Framingham North and Dedham.

In the return match with the Natick

Redmen, the Mustangs lost 67-65, despite an outstanding performance by Captain Paul Snellgrove. Nevertheless Norwood came back with a 71-60 win over Needham but came out on the short end, 54-53, in a loss to Braintree. The Mustangs were having their troubles at Framingham South, before seniors Tom Donovan and Pete O'Beirne came off the bench to spark Norwood at a 65-56 win. The Big Blue crushed their next two opponents, Walpole and Wellesley, as junior Bill Spierdowis starred in the latter. Milton, however, ended the Mustangs' tournament hopes with a 47-42 victory. Norwood ended its season, again whipping Dedham and Framingham North. Special praise must also be given to seniors Jack Collins, Joe Gugliotta, Wes Loper, Joe Smith and Joe Rukstalis.

They Battled to "The Last Ditch"

Teamwork, hustle, and coaching were the main ingredients which best describe this year's hockey team. Picked by many to finish no higher than fourth in the standings, the Mustangs, coached by Mr. Donald Wheeler and assisted by Mr. James Gormley, had a creditable 14-2-2 record, finishing second to Needham.

The highlights of the season were: the team effort in the great upset of Needham (4-1); the only hat trick of the season by Ken Reddick against Framingham South (3-0); Capt. Pete Oberlander's clutch winning goals against arch-rival Walpole (2-1) and B.C. High (2-1); the surprisingly easy win over Dedham (5-0); Rusty Tobin's dramatic goal in the come-from-behind victory over Framingham South (3-2); Neil Higgins pro-like goal tending throughout the season which won many games, especially his sparkling 26 save shutout against Auburn (3-0); Tom Shea's game winning goal against Marblehead (4-3); and Richie Graham's superlative play in the State Tourney, including the game winner over Malden Catholic (1-0) and the only goal in the heart-breaker against Arlington (1-2). The first line, noted for its back-checking, came to life in the Tourney. Richie Graham, the playmaker and stick-handler on the team, centered the first line for Captain Pete Oberlander, whose two-way play was impressive all season, and Tom Shea, whose straight-ahead, hustling play earned him the reputation of the best defensive forward in the Bay State League.

The second line, which did the bulk of the scoring during the season, saw the blossoming of three fine hockey players.

A Respectable Track Record

The Norwood High School Track Team has been a consistent winner over the past seasons, capturing many league and state honors.

This year, however, the Cross-Country Team was caught in the throws of a rebuilding season. The team was comprised solely of underclassmen. Randy Rintala, a Junior and Conference Medal winner, captained the team of Chris Lydon, George Parise, John Ranalli, Richard Harding, Brian MacQuarrie, Ken Meegan, and Steve Foster. Although the regular season record was somewhat disappointing, the team showed improvement by finishing in a respectable position in the Conference Meet.

The Indoor Track Team compensated for the losses in Cross-Country by compiling a strong 5 and 2 record, and they were edged only by Division Champion Milton, and Revere. The Relay Team earned a fifth place medal in the State Indoor Meet. It also represented Division Three in the Met League All-Star Meet. Five boys, in addition to the Relay Team, also gained berths on the All-Star Team. Co-captains Paul Grubenskas and Tom Brissette, were consistent double event winners, Paul in the hurdles and high jump and Tom in the 300-yd. dash and shot put. Three underclassmen also contributed their talents to this team; Randy Rintala in the mile, Richard Harding in the two-mile, and Bob Rukstalis in the 50-yd. dash.

With the abundant strength of the present underclassmen, Norwood High School may look forward to a continuation of successful track teams in the foreseeable future.

The Greeks Had a Word For It

One of the newest sports on the Hill is the ancient sport of wrestling, Graeco-Roman style. As with its ancient counterpart, today's wrestling requires that a grappler be in the best physical and mental condition. The sport, in fact, is based on the ability to endure long periods of self-sacrifice. This self-sacrifice was not lacking among the lads who made up this year's wrestling team at Norwood High School.

After having won only a single match in three years, this year the team compiled an improved record of five wins and only four losses. There were some bright spots along the road to this most successful season, primarily the brilliant performance of Senior Ken Sheehan, who pinned Perdoni of Wellesley and brought Norwood to within one point of upsetting a powerful Wellesley team. It will be difficult to match the undefeated records of Ken Sheehan and Richard Machado. A tribute must be paid to the consistent performance of Senior Rocco LoRusso, who, incidentally, won first place in the Regional meets and a fourth in the State Meets. It's difficult to mention wrestling without referring to Ken Sheehan again and again, for Wrestling and Ken Sheehan were almost synonymous here on the "Hill." At this same Regional Meet, we were fortunate to have Ken Sheehan and Charlie Shaw win a first place. Again, this gargantuan heavyweight, Sheehan, represented Norwood well at the State Meets and became State Champion in his weight class.

All in all, Coaches Cullen and Bethoney were very well pleased with the performance of their wrestlers. They are hoping that the loss of Seniors Ken Sheehan, Rocco LoRusso and Tim Hopkins won't hinder the team chances of doing as well as they did this year.

We Were in the Swim

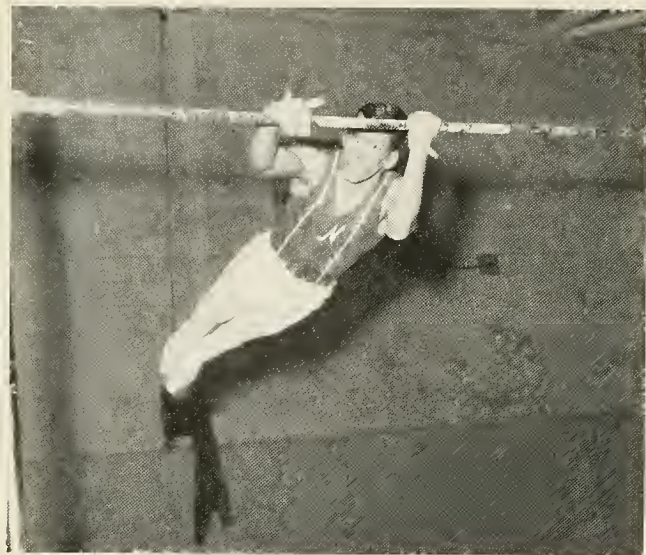

Norwood High's first swimming team started in November, 1966. Having no pool at the school, the Civic pool was used three days a week. Most team members had never previously participated in competitive swimming. Despite this lack of experience, the boys did an outstanding job against teams with far more years of competitive swimming behind them. The team's record, 2-7, was unimpressive, yet it does not rightfully show how well the boys competed.

The meets in which the Norwood High swimmers engaged were as follows: Brookline, Catholic Memorial, Wellesley, West Roxbury (Y.M.C.A.), Brockton, and Xavierian High Schools.

The core of the team was made up of freshmen and sophomores. Seniors who did an outstanding job were Joseph Wozniak and John Rukstalis, both swimming freestyle. Juniors were John Grenham in the 400-yard freestyle, Marc Orent in the 60-yard freestyle, Ray Wauhkonen in the 100-yard freestyle, and Jeffrey Altman in the 100-yard breast stroke. Sophomores were Steven Edmonds and Barry Levine in the 100-yard butterfly, Charles McAuliffe, and Peter Hunt in the backstroke, and Frank Ylioki and Richard Talbot in the backstroke, also. Freshmen were Andrew Malacaria and John Lambert in the individual medley. Andrew also was outstanding in the 100-yard breaststroke, being beaten only twice in the seven events. Steven Talbot showed up well in the 60-yard freestyle.

With all but two swimmers returning next year, Coach Frost and his squad anticipate a far more promising season, and a greater degree of participation in this extremely worth-while sport which can be enjoyed when school days have faded into the past.

A Potential Powerhouse

As Coach Hartnett moved into his second season as varsity baseball coach, he was looking for a reasonable improvement over last year's second place finish. For this purpose, the 1967 Mustangs were very capably spearheaded by Co-Captains Joe Gugliotta and Jack Wilson. This year's team stressed pitching, speed, and defense, as the whole team was well-attuned for those facets of the game.

On the mound, Captain Jack Wilson and John McManus were the team's right-handed aces, while Joe Giampa was the staff's lone left-hander. Kev Murphy was the club's reserve starter and relief pitcher; Joe Gugliotta, Bob Begley, and Norm Johnson all helped out on relief. Patrolling the area behind home plate was last year's capable catcher, Dennis Hebner.

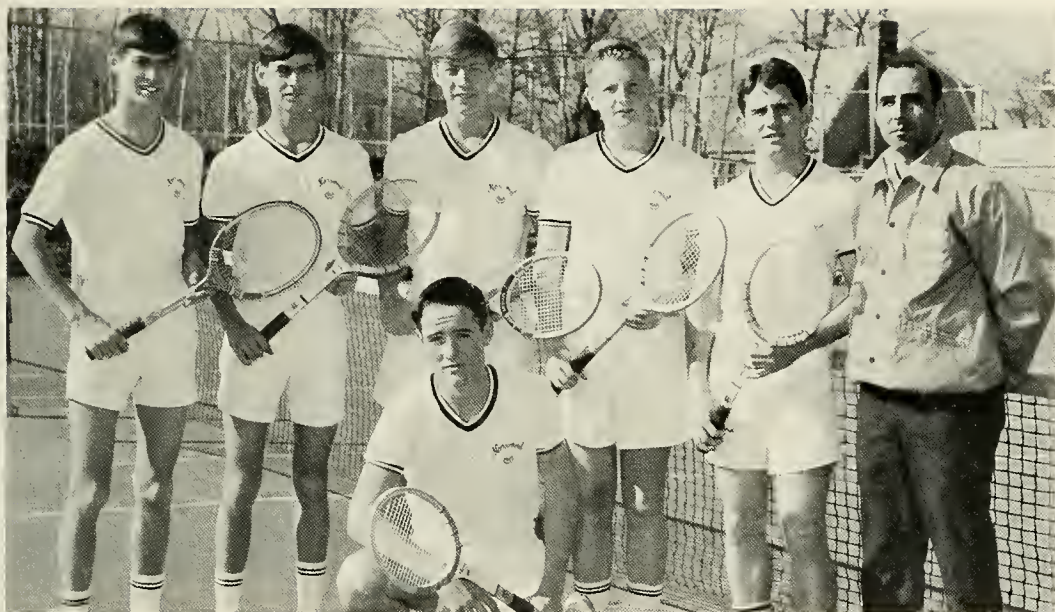

Forming a defensive wall in the infield were Captain Joe Gugliotta, at second base, and Kevin Orme at shortstop, as a double-play combination. Also part of the double-play threat was shortstop Tom Gugliotta, who gave added depth to the infield. In charge of the outer corners of the diamond were Jack Collins at first base, and Jack Cronin at third base. In the outfield, Kevin Donovan, Karl McCarthy, and Ron Anderson covered a lot of ground, while Steve Falcone, Steve Fischer, and Bob McHugh provided the club with depth in that area.

Speed was provided by Karl McCarthy, Captain Joe Gugliotta and Russ Mike, who made a habit of sliding safely into second base.

At the plate, Kevin Donovan, Jack Cronin and Norm Johnson were distance hitters who tallied a lot of scores for Norwood High.

Following last year's pattern, the baseball team began the season with a slow start, but with 13 games remaining as we go to press, the club expects to finish high in the final standings. This year's team was a hustling, high-spirited crew, who refused to be put down and were fitting representatives for Norwood High.

- Article XII: To Mr. Usevich we leave a spray can of girl-repellant and a voice amplifier to help him spread the word.
- Article XIII: To Mr. Peterson we leave an intercom-less room and 45 minutes of uninterrupted utopia.
- Article XIV: To our many blondes, both students and faculty members we leave a lifetime interest in the Clairol products and a color chart to plot the changing tints.
- Article XV: To Mr. Kodzis we leave a subscription to "Mad" to enlarge his repertoire of jokes.
- Article XVI: To Mrs. Wainer we leave a copy of "Sing Along With Frau Wainer." including all those hit songs from her German I classes.
- Article XVII: To Mr. Fiore we leave a sharp-witted, fun-loving Junior class to complement his cheerful disposition and to appreciate his outstanding jokes.
- Article XVIII: To Mr. Fader we leave at least one male Advanced Placement Biology student so that experiments with the pneumograph won't be so embarrassing.
- Article XIX: To Mr. MacDonough we leave a ring-side seat at the Folies Bergere for his next flyer to Paris.
- Article XX: To Mr. Dunn we bequeath a new Latin II book and a revised edition of Tom Swift so that he may catch up on his reading.
- Article XXI: To Mr. Poce we leave a "More Bounce to the Ounce" button to wear as he waltzes through the corridor.
- Article XXII: To Mrs. Buscone we leave many thanks for her hard work and guidance in making our senior play the success it was.
- Article XXIII: To Mr. Shaughnessy we leave nothing; we'd rather take him with us.
- Article XXIV: To the Guidance department we leave memories of our panic and confusion when we were choosing our following year's schedules.

- Article XXV: Tom Cassidy leaves 1000 ccs. of adrenalin to next year's senior class president.
- Article XXVI: To the underclassmen we leave the empty sneakers of the senior cheerleaders, whose places it will be hard to fill.
- Article XXVII: Tommy Donovan leaves his brothers Steve and Bob to carry on the family tradition of sending outstanding scholars and athletes to Norwood High.
- Article XXVIII: Our Japanese Exchange student, Ryoko Kurahashi, leaves for her native land, we hope the richer for her experiences among us.
- Article XXIX: George O'Brien leaves his rank as Student Council President to anyone who has the patience to listen to all the ridiculous suggestions brought up at the meetings.
- Article XXX: To the underclassmen we leave memories of the Senior Play and of Kenny Wiik, who would rather fight than switch.
- Article XXXI: Steve Bateman leaves his well-used crayons, chalk, and paint brushes for Mr. Eldridge to pass on to next year's art enthusiast.
- Article XXXII: Ken and Ellie leave a twenty-pound can of aspirin to have on hand for the super-migraines next year's editors will inherit.
- Article XXXIII: Linda Berry, Beverly Orphan and Diana Kved leave well satisfied with their art layouts, and Arthus Saarinen to instruct next year's Tiot art staff.
- Article XXXIV: John McAuliffe, Peter O'Beirne and Noralie Cox leave with flat pockets and empty wallets despite all the money that went through their hands.
- Article XXXV: Kenny Reddick and Pete Oberlander leave their skates and sticks to Neil Higgins and Jackie Cronin.
- Article XXXVI: To the Junior Class we leave Steve Sortevik.
- Article XXXVII: Paul Snellgrove and Lynne Crowley leave with ambitions toward Madison Ave., after their experiences as advertising editors.
- Article XXXVIII: Ken (Tarzan) Sheehan leaves his well-earned title for Richie Machado to capture, and all other wrestlers flat on the canvas.
- Article XXXIX: Felix and the Cats leave their musical ability to Spudsy and the Potatoes.
- Article XL: The Class of 1967 leaves the tremendous school spirit which they had during their four years on the Hill with the hope that it will be upheld by next year's Senior class.
- Article XLI: The Class of 1967 leaves with mixed emotions of joy and nostalgia and the optimism that their future years will bring them as much happiness as their four years on the Hill.

The construction of a school is a community project dear to the hearts of all forward-looking citizens who believe that the safety and progress of our country can only be entrusted to a well-educated youth. The people of Norwood take pride in their schools, and rejoice in the scholastic accomplishments and sporting achievements attained by the students. To the merchants of the town, who realize that the production of a yearbook needs community backing, the yearbook editors extend their appreciation. This undertaking, too, is an integral part of a school, one of the many facets of the educational kaleidoscope.

Mustangs Started Well and Finished Better

some fancy running in addition to an effective passing game.

The following Saturday Norwood met a Milton team boasting the biggest line in the state. The Mustangs could not get untracked in the sea of mud until the second half, losing 19-7.

The season ended on a happy note on Thanksgiving Day. The new score board was given a good workout as the Mustangs, sparked by Tom Shea's five touchdowns, defeated Dedham, 36-32. Every senior played in a game which kept the fans on their feet until the final whistle.

Much of the credit for the team's fine record of five wins, three losses and one tie must go to the coaches, who never lost patience or faith in their players despite a series of crippling injuries to such key personnel as Billy Knowlton, Joe Gagliotta, Steve Donovan, Steve DiCicco, and Charley Kelley.

The success of this team centered on team work. No one epitomized this kind of spirit better than captain Tom Donovan. His tremendous blocking, clutch running and star defensive playing were an inspiration to his team mates and a source of pride to Norwood High School.

Although losing many outstanding seniors, next year's team promises to be even more successful with such fine returning lettermen as Co-captains Mike Santospago and Tom Shea, both Bay State League all-stars, and Rich Machado, Steve Donovan and Dave Mogan.

Denny Hebner centered the line and led the team in assists. Ken Reddick led the team in scoring and earned a place on the Bay State League All-Stars. On the other wing was sophomore Tom Taylor who scored ten goals with his hustle and determination. John Ranalli and Ed Graham did outstanding jobs as penalty killers.

The Mustangs had two of the best defensemen in the state in Jack Cronin and Rusty Tobin. Cronin, a Bay State All-Star, was noted for moving opposing forwards from in front of the net. Tobin was the best poke checking defenseman in the league. Bob Begley deserves credit for job as third defenseman.

Goalie Neil Higgins repeated as All-Star and All-Scholastic. He also was named to the All-Tourney team and received the MVP Award. His 22 shutouts for two seasons attest to his ability.

Coach Wheeler did another great job in molding this year's team into a winner.

The team's overall record of 18-3-2 brings his five year coaching record at Norwood to a fantastic 67-17-8.

Driver Education

"NO RIGHT OF WAY"

You can mark this down as truth in every case of vehicle collision neither driver had the right-of-way, although one or both may claim it.

The only person who can give you the right-of-way is the other Driver. Until he does so, you haven't got it.

The Law never gives the right-of-way to anyone. It only says who shall yield and places a penalty on the driver who fails to do so.

You may have him arrested--If you are still alive after the crash, but don't make the silly mistake of thinking the Law has given you the "Right-of-Way."

MAKE SURE THE OTHER DRIVER
SEES YOU.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the sponsors and advertisers who have helped finance this yearbook. At the same time, we wish to suggest to our fellow classmates and to all our friends who read this book that they patronize the stores listed in our advertising. Yearbook advertising may reach a more limited audience than newspaper advertising, but it is much more permanent and much more handsomely displayed, and it will be read through the years by all of us who cherish this souvenir of happy high school days.

America in My Mind

What's my impression of America? It's not so easy to write in a few words, but I had a wonderful year, which was the most enjoyable but the hardest year in my life.

The great differences in customs took me a long time to really get used to. My American father says that I'm not friendly to America, because I still don't care for apple pie.

The language handicap made three or four times more work in my assignments and made me realize how "dumb" I was. (It might be true). The differences in the L-sound and the R-sound really bothered me. I used to be teased, "Oko, ret's go to Fliendry's for a flappe." Oh, well, I've learned.

I think I have forgotter most of the things that made me feel unhappy or were unpleasant at first.

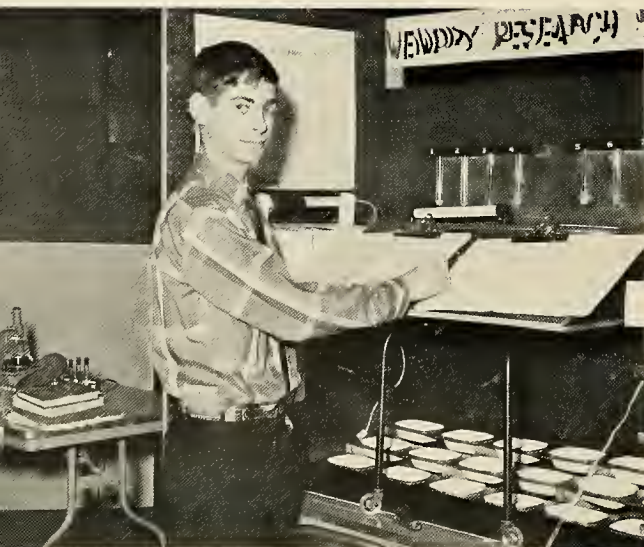

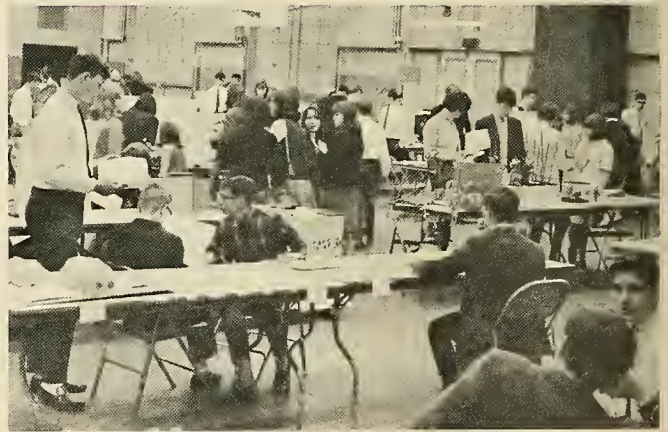

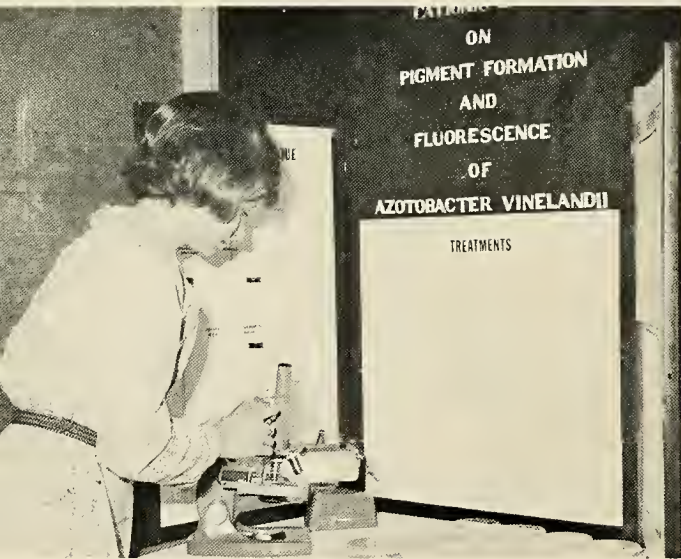

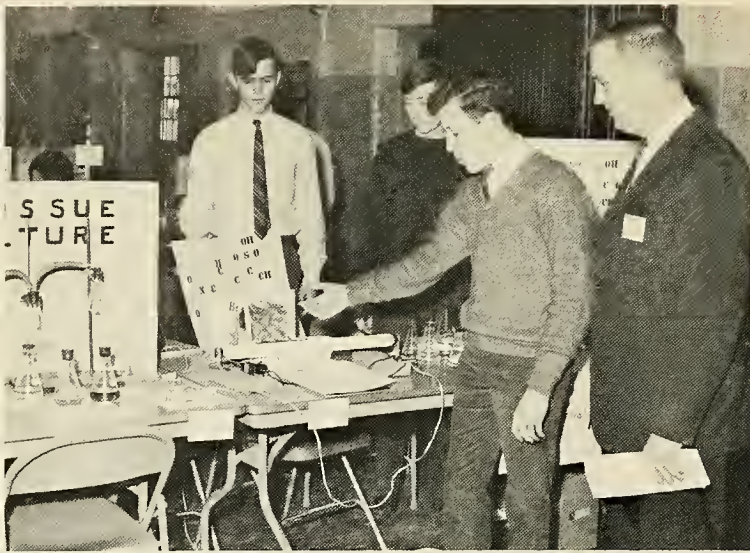

I remember how excited I was watching football games, though I couldn't understand the rules at all. Parties and school dances were so much fun. How I enjoyed the senior play, the senior musical, the concerts, climbing Blue Hill and so many things that I can't name them all here but I'll never forget them. (Don't doubt my brains!).

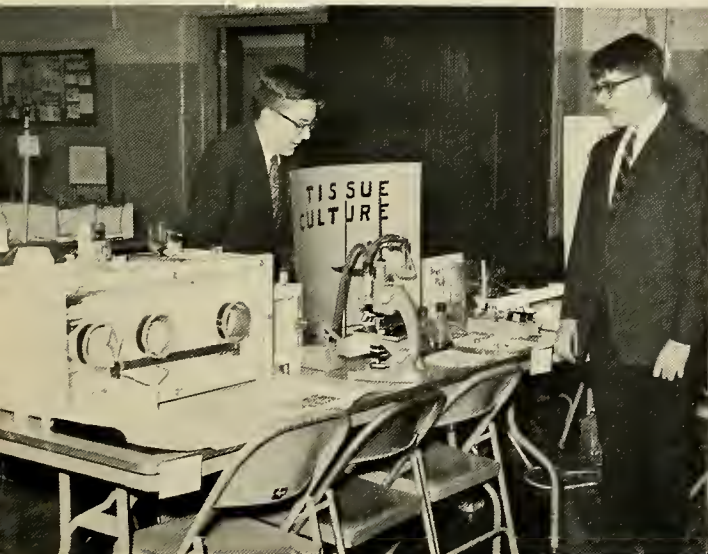

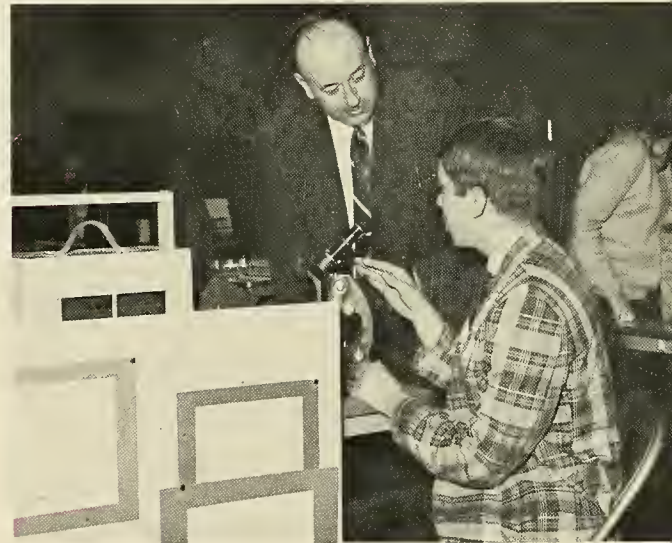

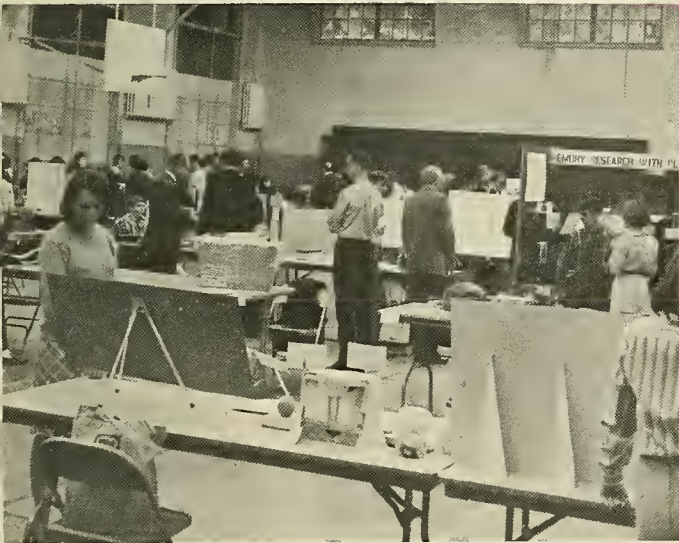

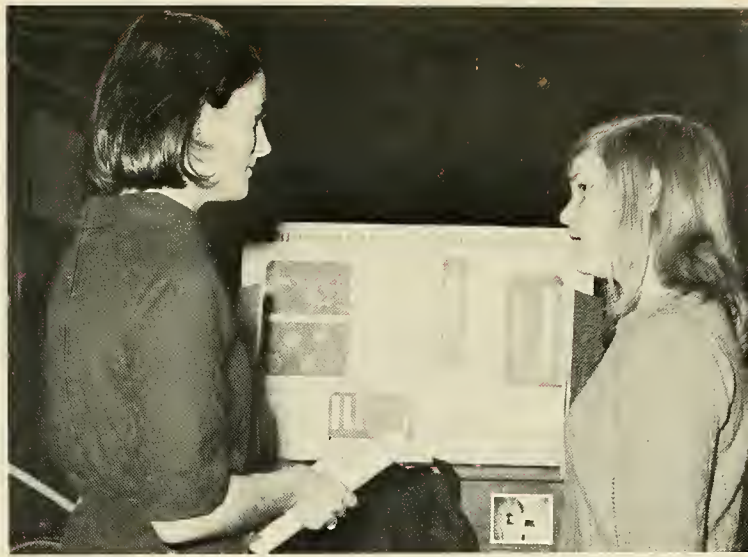

I have been well trained by "crazy" people, I mean people with a great sense of humor this year. I'm afraid that my serious people at home may not take me back.

I am supposed to lose one whole school year at home; however I can say that it's worth it, for my life here in America can best be summed up as follows: "Oh, boy, I had a ball!"

Oh, we love the halls of ivy that surround us here today
And we will not forget tho' we be far, far away.
To the hallow'd halls of ivy ev'ry voice will bid farewell
And shimmer off in twilight like the old vesper bell.

One day a hush will fall.
The footsteps of us all will echo down the hall and disappear,
But as we sadly start our journeys far apart,
A part of ev'ry heart will linger here.

In the sacred halls of ivy where we've lived and learned to know,
That thro' the years we'll see you in the sweet afterglow.

"The Impossible Dream" Leigh
Senior Class

To dream the impossible dream,
To fight the unbeatable foe,
To bear with unbearable sorrow,
To run where the brave dare not go;
To right the unrightable wrong,
To love pure and chaste from afar,
To try when your arms are too weary
To reach the unreachable star.
This is my quest,
To follow that star,
No matter how hopeless,
No matter how far.
To fight for the right
Without question or pause,
To be willing to march into hell for a heavenly cause!
And I know
If I'll only be true
To this glorious quest
That my heart will lie peaceful and calm
When I'm laid to my rest.
And the world
Will be better for this:
That one man,
Scorned and covered with scars,
Still strove with his last ounce of courage,
To reach the unreachable star.

My Japanese Sister

An AFS sister was not very different from the kind that grows at home, but it is these few differences that make up the heart of the AFS principles.

Ryoko was always willing to give up her time to teach about her country and was always eager to learn more about the United States' customs and ideals. Her roles of student and teacher combined with her more difficult role of sister to make her a welcome family member.

As a student she was puzzled by girls in shorts, my father's occasional attempts at cooking dinner, and the girls shouting at football games. She asked countless questions such as, "Where do I sit in the car on a date?" and giggled or quietly nodded her head at each answer. She was often amazed by such things as a little brother's feeble attempt at singing like Bob Dylan and reacted by shouting above the din "What you doing?" She found hours spent in the supermarket fascinating and would often burst out in surprise with a comment such as, "Dog food—don't those silly people know dogs eat rice?"

Perhaps her most difficult role was as a student in her academic career. The language barrier was an obstacle which could only be overcome by long hours of study and nights with little sleep. Unusual problems like the Japanese method of writing the denominator of a fraction above the numerator caused much frustration when she tried to adapt to our opposite method.

Her job as a teacher was a very trying one. She answered endless questions about her country and even heard in her sleep the inevitable question "Do you like the United States?" Much to the despair of my mother she taught my little brothers the art of juggling apples and there was many an apple "splat" on the floor to show for it.

As a sister, she was always around and willing to listen when things weren't going well. She consistently defended my position and became adjusted to dropping subtle hints to my parents when my own failed.

An AFS sister was at once a student, teacher, and sister but most important she was a friend — and this is the greatest compliment of all.

One World, built on a firm foundation;
Built on a firm foundation of peace.
What a wond'rous sight, Freedom's flame alight,
In a world where war shall cease:
One World, built on love and peace.
When God smiled, bright sunlight flooded hills and plains;
Songbirds filled green valleys with their glad refrains.
All things God created, His great love to share,
Now let men and nations join and shout it ev'rywhere:
One World, built on a firm foundation:
One World, no longer cursed by war;
Let no mortal man change the Master's plan
One great world at peace once more.
One World, One World, One World, At peace for evermore!
